New Liberal Education Curriculum requirements for Everyone

The Liberal Education Curriculum (LEC) requirements apply to all current students.

The LEC requirements are designed to give students as much flexibility as possible. By selecting dual-designated courses, students may have fewer required LEC classes and will therefore be able to choose more electives. (The total number of credits required to complete a degree remains the same.) Students who have taken classes which would have fulfilled LEC requirements under the older plan, but are no longer required under the new plan, will still receive full credit for the classes as elective coursework.

Students who have questions or concerns about the new Liberal Education Curricular requirements should contact their academic advisor or a faculty advisor in the major.

Notes:

- Effective in Spring 2015, students entering OW with a AA or AS (not AAS) degree from SUNY or CUNY are deemed to have met the SUNY General Education requirements.
 - Transfer students must meet the College requirements for Diversity and Proficiency in Math and Writing, in addition to the SUNY GE requirements.
 - Effective in Fall 2013, students may be able to satisfy two domains with a course which is designated for two domains. Under this rule, students can satisfy all the LEC requirements with less than 12 courses. However, a minimum of 30 credits are required for LEC.
- To obtain a listing of Liberal Education Curriculum courses offered each semester without logging in, go to the Old Westbury website: > Academics > Registrar (under Resources) > Class Schedule > Class Schedule > Term > Attribute Type (select domain) > click Class Search
 - Use Degree Audit to see your requirements and progress:
<https://connect.oldwestbury.edu> > Login (enter User ID and password) > Academics > Degree Audit (DGW)
 For students wishing to change majors, use What If on the left under the Worksheets
 - Students may use a class to fill both a major requirement and a LEC Requirement.
 Example: PE3410 Contemporary US Political Economy is a required class for PEL majors; it also fills the requirement for American Experience. A student majoring in PEL could use PE3410 to fill both a major requirement and to fill American Experience in the GE requirements.
