The School of Arts and Sciences offers the best of what has been called for over 2,000 years a “liberal education,” meaning a broad education undertaken for informed citizenship.

Every major in the School of Arts and Sciences promotes the following values: life-long learning; global citizenship; and social justice.

Life-Long Learning. The School wants to provide students with the capacity and desire to develop and learn throughout their lives. We urge students to take their formal education as an opportunity to gain personal qualities and habits of mind that will last a lifetime: self-examination and critical thinking; powers of analysis, judgment, and self-expression; empathy and ethical awareness; and a tolerance for ambiguity and complexity. The liberal arts have always prepared students for life-long engagement with civic and professional life, informed by a sure sense of values.

Global Citizenship. It is hard to stress too much the importance of understanding the international dimensions of modern life and thought. Learning to think and act as a citizen of the world—to understand and appreciate both diversity and our common humanity—is a powerful lesson in an increasingly global economy and culture.

Social Justice. Our emphasis on Social Justice is a reminder of our obligations to those around us; the connection between self and society is one of life’s most enduring and challenging questions, and it plays out now in global dimensions. Both the College as a whole and School of Arts and Sciences encourage students to promote full citizenship for all in the College, community, and world.

The liberal arts degrees at Old Westbury provide a solid foundation for graduate studies and professional accomplishment in many fields. In a fast-changing global society, the adaptability linked to the liberal arts has never been more relevant or more in demand in the workplace.
American Studies is an interdisciplinary program which offers two degrees:
1. a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) Degree in American Studies;
2. a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) Degree in Media and Communications (see page 87).

THE MAJOR IN AMERICAN STUDIES
American Studies is an interdisciplinary liberal arts program. Courses in the program examine the history and culture of the United States, social and economic structure, forms of cultural expression, and political and legal institutions. These courses integrate history, sociology, literature, and media studies and are designed to encourage the development of critical thinking, debate and clear expository writing. American Studies courses emphasize the diversity of American Society and the experiences of ordinary life, paying particular attention to ethnic, gender, and other forms of social inequality. Courses examine institutions of power and control and the ways people attempt to change society.

Work in the program is designed to combine a liberal arts education with career preparation. The program also offers students the ability to develop a field of study in the following areas: U.S. History and Society, Media Studies, African American History and Culture and Women’s Studies. Through its internship program, the major provides students with broad, flexible training appropriate to a wide array of jobs. The interdisciplinary course of study offered in the major provides useful preparation for graduate school and careers in education, media, law, government, and social work. The department expects that students, regardless of their career goals, will graduate with the knowledge and skills necessary to take constructive action for social change in their communities and workplaces, nation and the world.

Evening Students
American Studies offers a limited selection of courses in the evening. Completion of a major in American Studies requires daytime course attendance.

Transfer Students
An American Studies major can be completed in a two year period with appropriate planning. With an advisor’s approval, a maximum of four courses will be accepted in transfer toward the 11 courses required for the major. Transfer students should note that AS2112-AS2122, The American People I-II are prerequisites for enrollment in 5000-level American Studies courses, as well as for a number of other American Studies courses. It is essential that these courses be taken in a transfer student’s first year at Old Westbury if the expectation of completing the program in two years is to be met. These courses must be taken prior to the senior year.

Requirements for a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) Degree in American Studies
(120 credits, 90 credits in liberal arts)

A. Liberal Education Curriculum
Refer to the Liberal Education Curriculum Bulletin for specific requirements.

B. Major Requirements 11 courses
1. AS2112-AS2122 The American People I-II (8 credits)
   Note: These are prerequisites for enrollment in 5000-level American Studies courses. American Studies majors should complete these two courses as early as possible.
2. AS3100 American Studies Seminar 4 cr.
3. American Studies Elective Courses (24 credits)
   Students may choose, from the following list, six courses. Four of these courses must be at the 3000 level or above. Two of these four courses must be at the 4000 level. American Studies students cannot receive credit towards the major for media production courses.
AS1152  Themes in U.S. History
AS1282  Introduction to African American Studies
AS1512  Introduction to Women’s Studies
AS2202  Contemporary U.S. Society
AS2252  US Social Movement
AS2262  African American History I
AS2263  African American History II
AS2300  Problems in US Environmental History
AS2640  US Latina/o History
AS2652  Media Studies
AS2700  The Engaged Eye
AS2750  Food
AS2802  Introduction to Journalism and Media
AS3222  Urban History
AS3252  U.S. Social Movements
AS3270  Africa in the Americas
AS3412  African-American Women’s History
AS3432  Women: Cultural Issues
AS3462  History of Women in the U.S.
AS3622  Sports and Society

AS4732  Political Film
AS4850  Digital Revolution
AS9990  Independent Study

4. In-Depth Experience (4 credits)
AS4202  Internship in Government and Community

American Studies majors are encouraged to plan an internship, in consultation with a faculty advisor, with one of the College’s many community, government and/or non-profit partners. Students who prefer may choose instead to complete an independent study with major research paper, or an additional 4000-level American Studies elective course.

5. Capping courses (8 credits)
Two of the following (Senior Level):

AS5000  Topics in U.S. History in Global Perspective
AS5112  American Voices
AS5200  Environmental Journalism
AS5212  Narrative and History
AS5312  History of U.S. Culture
AS5350  History of the Slave Narrative
AS5412  Protest and Change
AS5420  Propaganda and Mass Persuasion
AS5712  Mass Media and Popular Culture
AS5800  Research in American History and Culture
AS5862  The Journalist as Creative Writer

C. General Electives
In consultation with Academic Advisor

Program Policies
1. All American Studies majors should see an advisor at least once a semester.
2. Only one grade of D+, D or D- will be accepted toward the major. Students must request this inclusion from the Chair of American Studies.
3. A minimum GPA of 2.0 must be achieved in the major.
4. Only two 1000 or 2000 level courses, beyond AS2112/2122 American People I/II, will be counted toward the major.
5. In order to qualify for independent study, students must have sophomore standing and a B (3.0) average. Only 4 credits of independent study will be counted toward the major.
6. Only 4 credits of internship can be applied toward the major.
7. No media production courses (noted in the course descriptions in the catalog by asterisk*) can be counted toward the American Studies major, but they may be used as free electives.
8. Only four courses can be transferred from another college or university and accepted for credit toward the major.
9. In general, 4000 and 5000 level courses will NOT be taught during the summer sessions.
10. All students in their junior year should make an appointment with the chair to make sure that they are on track for graduation.
The Biological Sciences program of study leads to either a Bachelor of Science (B.S.) or a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree in Biology. This program offers the basic courses for students whose career plans include the biological sciences, premedical and pre-professional training and secondary education (B.S. in Biology), public policy or environmental studies (B.A. in Biology). Students interested in secondary education should refer to the certification requirements in the teacher education program. The department also offers an MAT in Biology. The Biological Sciences Department incorporates an innovative, multidisciplinary approach to problem-solving in biology. It combines a strong research orientation in the basic sciences with a concern for health and environmental problems. It offers excellent preparation for professional and research careers concerned with the educational needs of the entire Long Island community.

Liberal Education Curriculum

Students who are not majors in Biological Sciences may select biology to fulfill the science domain in Liberal Education Curriculum. This domain requires students to take at least one laboratory based course. The designated course for this purpose is Biology for Non-Majors (BS2100).

Evening Students

The department currently offers selected lower-division and upper-division required courses in the evening.

Transfer Students

To be accepted in the department, all transfer students must provide a transcript to their advisor before enrolling in any course. Transfer students who will be majoring in Biology must have earned a minimum grade of C in each Basic Biology course in order to register for upper division classes. If students have satisfactorily completed basic and area course requirements elsewhere, they must, in consultation with an advisor, select an appropriate program of study and complete a minimum of 5 upper division electives, which includes at least one course in each of the three required areas of study. (See degree requirements.)

Requirements for Entry into Basic Biology I and II (BS2400-2410)

In order to register for BS2400-2410 a student must have completed the following prerequisites: EC II placement and MA 1020 (College Algebra).

Upper Division Requirements

A grade of D may be accepted for graduation in a maximum of two of the courses in a related field. However a grade of C or better is required in both lower and upper division biology courses in order to be credited for graduation.

Undergraduate Research Opportunity Programs

The Biological Sciences Department offers research opportunities for qualified undergraduate students. Students with a strong academic record and an interest in research are encouraged to work with one or more of the biological sciences faculty on selected laboratory projects.

The following topics represent the research interest of the Biological Sciences faculty:

- Zulema Cabail: Cell signaling mechanisms
- Patrick Cadet: Neurobiology, Opioid Neurobiological Mechanisms and Neuroimmunology of invertebrates
- Rita Colon-Urban: Microbiology; Mechanisms of Antibiotic Resistance
- William Gillis: Developmental Biology
Manya Mascareno: Cancer: Cell Biology and Gene Expression Changes
Jillian Nissen: Neuroscience, Immunology and Cancer Immunotherapy
Fernando Nieto: Microbial Ecology
Christos Noutsos: Plant Biology, Plant Ecology, Plant Genomics
Stephen C. Pryor: Environmental Health, Biochemical Genetics of Mosquitoes, Effects of Parasitic Infection on Behavior of Hosts

Currently, the research programs are supported as follows:

The Old Westbury Neuroscience Research Institute
Director, Patrick Cadet, Ph.D.

The Institute For Cancer Research and Education
Director, Manya Mascareno, Ph.D.

CSTEP Program
Director, Patrick Cadet, Ph.D.

STEP Program
Director, Fernando Nieto, PhD.

3. MA2090 Precalculus (Calculus, Statistics or Computer Science recommended)
4. CP2220-2221 Structure of Physics I (with Lab)
5. CP2120-2121 & 2130-2131 Principles of Chemistry, I, II (with Labs) if additional Chemistry courses are planned
6. 8 credits in foreign language or computer science
7. Additional Recommended Courses. Electives may be chosen with an advisor to meet the specific interests of particular students. Electives in other programs should be chosen to cover a broad range of subject areas; advisors will assist students in selecting the most appropriate courses. These electives cannot be used in substitution of a biology elective course from section d.

Environmental Studies and Ecology
For students interested in the environment and ecology, the Biological Sciences Department offers a minor in Environmental Studies. Students should meet with an advisor for guidance in selecting electives and preparing their senior project.

A B.S. degree with this emphasis will prepare a student for advanced laboratory research in environmental biology while a B.A. degree with this emphasis is designed for students more interested in administering environmental programs. Direct participation in environmental agencies and organizations on Long Island or independent laboratory research on an environmental problem is an important aspect of this emphasis.

Middle Childhood and Adolescence Education Option
Middle childhood and adolescence education degrees are available for students planning a career teaching biology. By completing all requirements listed under Teacher Education in this catalog, students majoring in Biological Sciences satisfy all requirements for New York State initial certification in either middle childhood education (grades 5-9) or adolescence education (grades 7-12). Students must secure an advisor in both Teacher Education and Biological Sciences. (Refer to “Advisement” section under Teacher Education.)

CHEMISTRY AND PHYSICS DEPARTMENT

Distinguished Teaching Professor: Robert M. Hoyte
Distinguished Service Professor: Henry Teoh
Professors: Barbara Hillery, Judith Lloyd, Chair, Konrad Wu
Associate Professors: Michael Colaneri, Fernando Espinoza, Ruomei Gao, Duncan Quarless
Assistant Professors: Bright Emerlike, Youngjoo Kim
Visiting Associate Professor: Camille Jones, Steve Samuel
Laboratory Manager: Judith Johnson
Laboratory Technician: Jianli Zheng

CHEMISTRY AND PHYSICS DEPARTMENT MISSION STATEMENT
The mission of the Chemistry and Physics Department is to provide a sound, broadly-based foundation in chemistry and physics to enable graduates to perform effectively in the chemical industries, graduate and professional school, and other work environments. Along with this foundation, the department’s learning outcomes focus on the development of students’ critical thinking and communication skills. In keeping with the College’s social justice mission, we strive to accomplish these goals through close interaction between students and faculty, and by creating a learning environment that is welcoming to all.

THE MAJOR IN CHEMISTRY
The Chemistry major is intended to serve three student constituencies: (1) first time to college and lower division transfer students; (2) transfer students who have earned either an Associate of Arts, Associate of Science, or Associate of Applied Science degree; (3) non-matriculated students wishing to complete courses in chemistry to further career or personal goals. Since this student clientele will vary greatly in ability, preparation, and goals, the program is designed to have substantial flexibility. This flexibility is accomplished by offering two degree options: the Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree and the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree.

The B.A. degree program requires fewer courses in chemistry than the B.S. program, leaving greater freedom for selection of courses in other areas, e.g., the biological sciences and liberal arts. This frequently is the preferred route for students preparing for entry into the health professions, as well as for students seeking opportunities in public school education or direct employment in scientific industries.

The B.A. degree in Chemistry is the logical option for those who wish to prepare for postgraduate study in medicine, dentistry, other health professions, law, and related professions.

The B.S. degree program is the recommended program for students planning graduate study in chemistry. It also prepares graduates for baccalaureate careers in the chemical sciences, and scientific positions related to the environment, energy, and health professions. In contrast to the B.A., the B.S. degree requires more course work in chemistry and mathematics.

THE MAJOR IN BIOCHEMISTRY

The Biochemistry major is also intended to serve the three student constituencies identified above for the chemistry major, but will appeal to students whose interests overlap the fields of chemistry and biology. The B.S. degree program in Biochemistry is designed to prepare students for careers in biotechnology and scientific work in emerging fields at the interface of biology and chemistry. It is a highly interdisciplinary curriculum that also prepares students for graduate study in biochemistry and related fields such as molecular and cellular biology. In addition, the Biochemistry major provides excellent preparation for students intending to seek entry into medical, dental, and other health professional schools.

OTHER SERVICES

In addition to its degree-granting role, the Chemistry/Physics Department provides vital support both to science majors in fields other than chemistry and to non-science majors. The Department offers courses which appeal to broad segments of the college community, and provides non-science majors with the scientific concepts needed to function effectively in today’s society.

AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY CERTIFICATION

For those who wish to continue their education on the graduate level, an optional program based on recommendations of the American Chemical Society’s Committee on Professional Training has been designed as an integral extension of the B.S. degree programs.

This optional curriculum has received full certification from the American Chemical Society (ACS). Students who complete the ACS approved program will be awarded an ACS certified B.S. degree in chemistry or in Biochemistry.

TRANSFER STUDENTS

The Chemistry and Biochemistry majors are designed to articulate with a typical community college program. Transfer students who have followed a science curriculum at a two-year college, including one year each of introductory chemistry, organic chemistry, calculus and physics can expect to complete the chemistry major in two years. Transfer students must complete at least 18 credits of CP courses at or above the 3000 level at Old Westbury.

PHYSICS COURSES

The Chemistry/Physics Department also offers courses in physics and physical science. The motivating philosophy for these courses is to provide the student with a broad background in the fundamental laws and principles of physics and mathematical physical sciences for work in biological science, chemistry, physics, engineering, mathematics, teacher education, business, computer and information sciences, and health-related fields. It is not possible to earn a degree in Physics at this time.

EVENING STUDENTS

At the present time, it is not possible to earn a degree in Chemistry or Biochemistry by attending classes only during the evening.

Competency Requirement for Graduation with a Degree in Chemistry or Biochemistry

Students must achieve a 2.0 average in chemistry (CP) courses at Old Westbury.

Policy on Repeated Courses

No CP course may be taken more than three times. Students who can not achieve a grade of C in a course after three attempts, are advised to change majors. Failed attempts include grades of F, W, D, D+, and C-.

C. General Electives
   In consultation with Academic Advisor

Total Credits Required:  120

1 No more than 4 credits of research can be counted toward satisfying elective requirements and no more than 8 credits toward degree requirements.
Requirements for a B.S. Degree in Chemistry with American Chemical Society Certification
To be eligible for ACS Certification, students must complete all requirements for the B.S. Degree in Chemistry with two of the three electives being Biochemistry I (CP4510) and Inorganic Chemistry CP3450. The remaining elective must be chosen from CP3230, CP4320 or CP4515. Research (CP5900, 4 credits) as an elective for ACS Certification must include a comprehensive and well-documented research report. No more than 4 credits of research will count toward the ACS certification.

Requirements for a B.S. Degree in Biochemistry with American Chemical Society Certification
To be eligible for ACS Certification, students must complete all requirements for the B.S. Degree in Biochemistry with the added requirements of completion of Inorganic Chemistry (CP3450) Physical Chemistry II (CP4710) and Advanced Chemical Methods (CP4800). Research (CP5900) may not substitute for any requirements for purposes of ACS certification.

Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) Degree in English

The English Department houses Old Westbury’s Writing Program and offers the Bachelor of Arts Degree in English.

The B.A. in English provides majors with a cutting-edge curriculum in the study of multicultural and world literature, advanced writing and research, and critical thinking and analysis. The English program rigorously cultivates skills in literary analysis, careful reading, and advanced writing through a multicultural and global literary framework. Building on common foundations, this degree offers two upper-level specializations: Multicultural U.S.-British Literature and World Literature.

The English major is designed to give students:

• Knowledge of the main themes, historical/social backgrounds, periods of development, and genres of British/U.S. and European/World Literature, with specific knowledge of the multicultural and intercultural content of those literatures
• Ability to interpret literary texts with regard to themes, form, genre affiliations, and social/cultural reference
• Mastery of English writing skills, including the ability to construct large-scale interpretive-analytical papers that are proficient in grammar, expression, discussion of literary scholarship, and discipline-specific (MLA) documentation
• Ability to synthesize and integrate knowledge from different courses into an overall conception of the development and importance of Multicultural or World Literature

At the Foundations level, requirements recognize the importance of firm grounding in Language Arts and Literary Interpretation. These emphases correlate with stress on skills foundations in current pedagogy. The Linguistic Foundations requirement recognizes the centrality of strong training in the history and structure of language as well as the formal grammar of English.

The Literary Analysis requirement offers training in literary interpretation, close reading, knowledge of literary genres, social and historical contextualization of literature, and literary theory, today a sine qua non of competitive literature degrees.

A three-course sequence in Literary Traditions includes historical surveys of British, U.S., European, and World literature and selected courses in classical foundations, genres, and such recent topics as postcolonialism.

The Multicultural U.S./British Literature Specialization is rooted in recent trends in literary theory and interpretation, which view U.S./British literature as expressing diverse national, cultural, and gender perspectives within a common tradition. Multicultural U.S./British Literature includes texts from both the U.S. and U.K. by writers of different ethnicities, genders, sexualities, classes, and ability/disability status. Multicultural literature focuses on the complexity of two countries in which people of many different cultures cohabit. Such fields as African American Literature, Multi-Ethnic Literatures of the United States, Women’s Literature, and Lesbian and Gay Literature, increasingly prominent in English studies since 1990, form the core of this specialization. This specialization enhances the competitiveness of students applying to graduate English programs or continuing to a variety of careers.

The World Literature Specialization studies literature in English from outside the U.S./U.K. as well as other literatures in translation. This specialization speaks to the increasing integration of international literary culture and to an... increasing emphasis on global culture. It is directly relevant to the sizeable number of Old Westbury students from postcolonial English speaking cultures and to others with an interest in world culture. It helps prepare students for graduate study in such fields as Postcolonial Studies, the Literature of the African Diaspora, and others, and for varied careers.

The Senior Seminar requirement offers an integrated capstone experience for students in this degree program. The Senior Seminar requirement begins with Senior Seminar I—Research and Writing, an intensive preparation for the Senior Thesis including study of advanced research methods, seminar presentations, and a semester-length writing project. Senior Seminar II—Thesis provides a semester-long thesis writing project with a common curriculum of reading and research.

The English Department offers co-curricular, community-building activities and systems of support for our majors through individual academic advising sessions; student publications, round tables and conferences; and workshops, poetry readings, and career networking sessions. The Department publishes Harmonia, a creative writing journal, and Discordia, a literary scholarship journal open to all Old Westbury students. Majors have opportunities to earn course credit as peer mentors and as peer tutors. Internships place students in legal, cultural and publishing venues under the supervision of professionals.

The B.A. Degree in English program prepares majors for entrance into graduate school as well as for employment in fields that require strong proficiency in communication, writing, critical analysis, and intercultural understanding. Our graduates work in fields such as publishing, banking, education, business, library sciences, teaching, and law. Our graduates have continued their education, pursing graduate degrees in English, Education (including Old Wesbury’s Master of Arts in Teaching English Language Arts 7-12), Library Science, Business Law, and other fields of study.

The English Department is equally dedicated to developing the language arts skills of Old Westbury students (including writing, revising, reading, researching, information management, public speaking, and critical thinking) through our offerings of English Composition I and II.

Faculty value involvement in campus life and reflect the College’s mission to promote “intercultural understanding” and to “build a more just world” in our approaches to teaching, service work, and professional development projects.

Evening Students
At this time, completing the major requires predominantly daytime attendance.

Transfer Students

Students can complete the major in a two-year period. Up to twelve transfer credits may apply toward the forty-four credits required for the major.

Requirements for a B.A. Degree in English
(120 credits, 90 in liberal arts):

A. Liberal Education Curriculum
Refer to the Liberal Education Curriculum Bulletin for specific requirements.

B. Major Requirements:
All students in the major take a set of platform courses (levels 1 - 3) and complete the Senior Seminar sequence (level 5). Students choose one of two specializations, U.S.-British Multicultural Literature or World Literature, at level 4. Summaries of the areas and credits are as follows:

Prerequisites: EMS for all courses at 3000 level or above.

Distribution Requirements:
(a) At least 2 courses primarily in literature written before 1800 (for the U.S., 1900)
(b) At least 1 course in each of: British Literature; U.S. Literature; and World Literature. Either EL3500 or 3510 may be used to satisfy the British or U.S. Literature requirement, but not both.

Grade Requirement:
A maximum of one grade of C-, and no grade below C-, may be counted toward satisfying the Major requirements.

Note: Not all courses are offered in any semester. Consult course descriptions and online class schedules.

Policy on repeat courses in the English major: No EL course may be taken more than two times without the permission of the chair.

Courses in Composition
The Department of English offers a range of courses in composition. All courses are designed to develop facility in reading and writing and to sharpen critical thinking, listening, oral communication, research and study skills. These English courses fulfill SUNY-mandated General Education requirements in Basic Communication as well as the two-course Old Westbury collegewide Writing requirement. English Composition I: Exposition, EL1000, concentrates on language development and rhetorical models. For English Composition II: Argumentation/Literary Perspectives, the Department offers a diverse set of thematically organized courses numbered between EL2200 and EL2299. These courses offer further training in expository writing and introduce students to research skills and scholarly documentation. All EL2200-2299 courses train students in the same skill sets, while offering variety in literary focus.
EL1000 and 2200-2299 also fulfill SUNY-mandated assessment requirements in Oral Communication, Information Management, and Revision. A grade of C or better is required to pass EL1000 and EL2200-2299.

Liberal Education Curriculum Courses
Most but not all courses above the 2200 level courses fulfill Liberal Education Curriculum Domain requirements in the areas of Humanities and/or Diversity. Consult the Liberal Education Curriculum Bulletin or speak with a Department adviser for guidance.

HISTORY AND PHILOSOPHY DEPARTMENT

Professors: Jingyi Song, Judith Walsh, Chair
Associate Professors: Sylvie Kandé, Maureen Feder-Marcus, Xavier Maréchaux
Assistant Professors: Kyle Anderson, Juan Pablo Galvis
Visiting Assistant Professor: Chelsea Gal

The History and Philosophy Department prepares students for a lifetime of critical thinking and cooperative living in today’s interconnected world. Courses that emphasize multicultural and international perspectives in disciplines such as history, philosophy, geography, and religious studies prepare students for a wide range of professional fields. At the same time, the degrees offered by the department encourage students to engage with the breadth of human experience while instilling a commitment to build a more just and sustainable future.

THE CURRICULUM

The History and Philosophy Department is responsible for two Bachelor of Arts degree programs. Both provide students with a range of options, allowing them to design a course of study suited to their interests. At the same time, these degrees offer excellent preparation for a variety of career paths and graduate degrees. The degree programs are:

History - provides an embracing perspective from which to study human lives and affairs. The B.A. in History includes two tracks: a. the History Liberal Arts Track and b. the History Social Studies Track. The History Liberal Arts Track is designed for majors with a general interest in the discipline of history and requires courses in Western, non-Western, global, and trans-regional history as well as a course in geography, a course in historiography and a Senior Seminar. The History Social Studies Track is for majors who wish to teach Social Studies at the secondary level and requires substantial course work in history as well as in geography, political science, and economics.

Philosophy and Religion - emphasizes the analysis of values, belief systems, and contemporary ethical issues with courses in diverse cultural traditions and major areas of philosophical and religious thought. Students explore the common aspects of these topics as well as their differences. Courses from the Western tradition and from Islamic, Asian, and African perspectives are included. All courses emphasize critical thinking and analytical skills and help students form a coherent set of ethical judgments and beliefs.

Minors

Minors providing complements for the major include Computer Information Science, Congregational Leadership, Environmental Studies, Global Studies, Hispanic Cultural Studies, Islamic Studies, Philosophy and Religion (for History majors only), Pre-Law, and Women & Gender Studies.
Special Activities
The History and Philosophy Department organizes the Summer Study Abroad Program in China which is a credit-bearing course. The four-week program of study and travel, currently based at Wuyi University in Guangdong, provides an excellent experience for all majors in the department as well as for candidates in other areas of Arts and Sciences, Education, and Business. The department sponsors a student club. The department is also home to Old Westbury’s chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, the national history honors society.

Career Opportunities
With an emphasis on critical thinking, problem-solving, language, communicative skills, and an appreciation of the diversity of modern American society, degrees in the department provide excellent preparation for professional careers and for graduate study in the liberal arts. Graduates of the program have gone on to successful careers in education, public relations, social services, and government. In an increasingly international world, the multicultural outlook and communications skills fostered by the department’s programs are essential for every career path.

Study Abroad
In addition to the Summer Study Abroad Program in China, students are encouraged to apply for other study abroad programs offered by Old Westbury and SUNY.

Evening Students
Course selections in the evening are limited, but the History and Philosophy Department will try to accommodate evening students. A number of courses are offered online, and courses are generally offered in the summer sessions and January mini-semester.

Transfer Students
Students may be able to substitute up to five courses taken at other institutions to fulfill requirements in the major. Consult the department chair for specific course equivalents.

Requirements for a Bachelor of Arts Degree in History
The B.A. in History can be completed through the History Liberal Arts Track or through the History Social Studies Track. Both tracks provide majors with a background in history that is both broad and deep. This, together with the skills learned in analysis, research and writing, provides an excellent foundation for global citizenship in the 21st century world, whatever a major’s future career path may be.

The History Liberal Arts Track provides majors with an excellent foundation for future careers in areas such as law, international relations, college teaching, museum work, public administration, publishing, social work, and urban and regional planning. Majors complete introductory work in American, European, and Non-Western history. To consolidate a global perspective, students take a course in geography, an advanced trans-regional course on the relationship between two or more world regions, and an advanced Global history course. In addition, they take a course in Historiography, three electives of their own choosing, and a Senior Seminar in which they write an original thesis.

The History Social Studies Track is designed for students who want to teach Social Studies at the secondary level (grades 7-12). Majors in this track complete a rigorous course of study that includes multiple courses in American, European, and Non-Western history; one course each in modern (global) World History, in Science and Technology, in Geography, and in Politics; and two courses in Economics. Majors in the Social Studies track also complete the Social Studies Senior Seminar in which they write an original research paper.

Majors completing the History Social Studies Track have the option of graduating with an Adolescence Education degree in Social Studies. By gaining admission to the School of Education, completing School of Education course requirements for Adolescence Education: Social Studies, and passing New York State certification exams, students majoring in the History Social Studies Track will satisfy all requirements for New York State initial certification in Adolescence Education: Social Studies (grades 7-12).

Alternatively, majors in the History Social Studies Track can pursue state certification by enrolling in the college Social Studies M.A.T. program after graduation. The M.A.T. program involves a separate application process during a student’s senior year. The History Social Studies Track fulfills all content course requirements for admission into the M.A.T. program and provides an excellent background for the areas of teaching encountered in secondary social studies curricula. Students graduating from the M.A.T. program are fully prepared to take the statewide certification exams and enter the teaching profession with the highest degree they will need.

Requirements for a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Philosophy and Religion

Students are required to complete a minimum of 120 credits, including 51-52 credits of Liberal Education Curriculum courses, major requirements (40 credits), and general College electives. No more than one course with a D grade will be accepted toward requirements for the major.

The Philosophy and Religion degree gives students grounding in the traditional issues, content, and methods of these disciplines while emphasizing a broad global perspective. At the introductory level students take courses in disciplinary foundations and methods, as well as general surveys in the disciplines. The major then requires the study of philosophy and religion within specific cultural contexts with opportunities for students to engage with Western, Islamic, African and Asian systems of thought and value.

Given the common ethical and normative concerns of the two disciplines, students take an ethics course that has both an applied and a multicultural perspective. Upper division electives allow students to do in-depth and specialized work on issues and topics of their choosing, with a disciplinary focus. Students with a particular interest in some area of applied ethics, such as the environment, issues of race and gender, health, and social policy, may choose elective courses from outside the major in consultation with an advisor. Pre-law students should also consult with an advisor in choosing their electives.

Successful completion of the degree will give students an understanding of the role of philosophical principles and religious systems in current ethical and political debates, as well as an understanding of the existential issues common to all humankind. The courses enhance critical thinking, analytical skills and the ability to make independent and informed ethical judgments. The Philosophy and Religion major is excellent preparation for many career paths and is especially recommended for students preparing for law school.

A. Liberal Education Curriculum 51-52 credits.
Refer to the Liberal Education Curriculum Bulletin for specific requirements.

B. Major Requirements Total: 40 credits

1. Disciplinary Perspectives/Surveys (Choose Two)
- HI1010 World Religions: West
- HI1020 World Religions: East
- HI2720 Introduction to Philosophy

2. Disciplinary Methods (Choose One)
- HI2155 Introduction to Comparative Religion
- HI2700 Introduction to Logic

8. U. S. Politics: 4 credits (one course)
- PE2650 Intro to U.S. Politics

9. Economics: 8 credits (two courses) from the following:
- PE2400 Intro to Political Economy
- PE2420 Microeconomics
- PE2430 Macroeconomics

10. Social Studies Senior Seminar 4 credits (one course)
- HI5000 Social Studies Senior Seminar

11. A Minimum of 4 out of the 16 Courses in the Major Must be Taken at the 4000 or 5000 level
A minimum of 4 courses out of the 16 courses required for the major must be taken at the 4000 or 5000 level. Students who do not take at least 4 courses at the 4000 or 5000 level when they fulfill major requirements will need to take additional 4000 or 5000 level history courses to meet this requirement.

C. General Electives
In consultation with Academic Advisor

D. Other Requirements
Candidates may not earn more than one grade below C- in the required courses for the degree, whether taken at Old Westbury or elsewhere.

INDUSTRIAL AND LABOR RELATIONS

(POLITICS, ECONOMICS AND LAW DEPARTMENT)

Associate Professor: Thomas J. Lilly, Jr., Coordinator

The Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees in Industrial and Labor Relations are multidisciplinary majors within the Politics, Economics and Law Department. Through the vantage point of worker/employer relations, they explore the history, contributions, and problems of working people and their institutions in contemporary society, as well as the theory and practice of various management methods and models, from scientific management to modern human resource management. Foundation courses introduce students to the analytical tools of political science and economics that are useful in the specialized study of labor-management issues.

Core courses emphasize current labor-management and labor-government issues, including collective bargaining, grievance procedures, arbitration, labor and employment law, public policy, and labor economics. Electives allow students the opportunity to further explore labor-management issues from the perspectives of management, unions, history, economics, sociology, politics, law, and public health.

The curriculum recognizes that globalization of labor markets and production is rapidly changing the labor-management environment. Multinational enterprises, with their enormous size and ability to relocate production and other facilities, have upset the post-World War II balance of power with unions. Thus, courses emphasize the dynamic nature of current labor-management relations.

Careers and Graduate Education

With their multidisciplinary curricula, combined with their emphasis on critical thinking and communication skills (written and oral), the Industrial and Labor Relations majors provide students with a solid foundation for immediate careers and for graduate study. Students are well prepared for careers in ILR, human resource management, business, unions, advocacy, and government agencies (e.g., Department of Labor). Students also pursue graduate studies in law, ILR, management, public administration, and similar fields. Our graduates currently are in leadership and high staff positions in HR departments, labor unions, and government agencies.

The Long Island chapter of the Labor and Employment Relations Association (LERA) offers a scholarship each year to an Old Westbury ILR major, and it welcomes students to attend its meetings.

Internships

To assist students in exploring career opportunities, the ILR faculty actively pursues internships for academic credit. The model consists of a mentor – typically in a human resources department, a labor union, or a government agency – acquainting the student as to various responsibilities and activities. The internships are one semester long. Contact the Coordinator of ILR well before the semester begins to apply for an internship.

Transfer Students

Students may earn no grade lower than a C- in courses for the ILR degrees. A maximum of five courses may be transferred from another institution toward the B.A. in ILR, and a maximum of six courses may be transferred toward the B.S. in ILR. A transferred two course sequence offering two credits for each course is equivalent to one course in the major.

Evening Students

Students majoring in ILR can fulfill requirements for graduation by attending evening classes.

Life Long Learners (LLL)

Adult students who wish to continue their education by taking credit courses, without pursuing a degree, may elect to attend the college under a non-matriculated status. Many students, particularly members of labor unions, enroll in ILR courses as Life Long Learners (LLL). The Office of Enrollment Services will assist such students.

Requirements for a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) Degree in Industrial and Labor Relations

(120 credits, 90 credits in liberal arts)

The Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) and Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degrees in Industrial and Labor Relations are multidisciplinary programs of study, drawing on courses offered in several departments at the College.

Competency Requirement in the Major
In order to graduate with a B.A. or B.S. degree in Industrial and Labor Relations, a student may receive no grade lower than a C- in courses applied toward the major.

The Minor in Industrial and Labor Relations
Requirements for the minor are listed on page 139.
The Department of Mathematics and Computer & Information Science (Math/CIS) aims to realize the inherent synergies between both disciplines in an effort to serve our students effectively and efficiently.

Mathematics is the universal logic of science and engineering. It is fundamental to exploring the nature of space and time, and is used to describe, analyze and solve problems in the world around us. For some, a passion for mathematics may lead to a life-time of research or teaching. For others, an interest in applied mathematics may lead to a career in business, government or industry across a broad area of operations research or computational mathematics. Some specific areas of math-related employment include mathematical finance, risk management, actuarial science, quality assurance, data analytic, health care administration, energy and transportation systems, and modeling for climate change and sustainability.

The ability to think computationally is an essential skill for every student as technology becomes increasingly pervasive in all aspects of life. The analysis and design of efficient algorithms—that is, sets of rules used for computation—is fundamental to problem solving in both mathematics and computer science. As a computer scientist, one needs to develop and deliver working systems comprised of hardware and software that represent the solution to clients’ real-life problems; therefore, programming is the central activity in systems development. Creating software entails abstraction, encapsulation and modularization, which aid in conceptualization and design of complex systems.

Presently, the Math/CIS department offers three degrees:

1. Bachelor of Science in Mathematics
2. Bachelor of Science in Computer & Information Science
3. Bachelor of Science in Management Information Systems

All three degree programs provide students with a firm foundation in the fundamentals and endeavor to prepare them as life-long self-learners. Mathematics majors may choose to specialize in either pure mathematics or applied mathematics by appropriate selection of electives in consultation with their advisors. The department also offers minors in Mathematics, Applied Mathematics, and CIS.

Academic Requirements

Students begin the Mathematics, CIS, or MIS major at a level appropriate to their preparedness. Some students will need to fulfill prerequisite courses before taking the core requirements for Mathematics, CIS, or MIS. Faculty will aid students in devising a plan of study that will reflect each student’s talent and career ambitions.

To graduate with a Mathematics, CIS, or MIS degree, students must earn a grade of C or better in all Math, CIS, and MIS courses applied to the degree.

Students should bring intellectual curiosity, determination, and motivation to the Mathematics, CIS, and MIS majors; faculty will help to open the doors to academic and professional success.

Transfer Students

The department has articulation agreements with several community colleges. Transfer students who have followed a mathematics or computer science curriculum at a two-year college are expected to be able to complete their respective degrees in two years. Upon approval from the chairperson, transfer students may use equivalent courses taken elsewhere in fulfillment of major requirements. They are advised to consult with the chairperson regarding transfer of credits from other institutions. Transfer students must complete a minimum of 28 credits in major required courses at or above the 3000 level at Old Westbury.
Evening Students

Although the majority of the CIS and MIS courses are offered in the evening on a regular basis, students who plan to earn a degree in CIS or MIS by attending only evening classes should note that completion of the degree may take longer than normal due to scheduling constraints. Mathematics majors can fulfill some of the requirements for graduation by attending evening classes. However, the majority of the mathematics courses are offered only during the day.

COMPUTER & INFORMATION SCIENCE (CIS)

The Computer and Information Science degree at SUNY Old Westbury is a course of study that is both academically rigorous and practically sound. The distinction is important in light of the large gap that exists between most colleges’ curriculum in this field and the needs of the computer industry. Driven by exploding demand for computer and information science graduates in various fields, our curriculum is updated based on the state-of-the-art technology required in current computer science and computing industry.

The CIS degree is unique in its strong emphasis on the areas of data management, Web technologies, computer networks and applied software development. Therefore, all of our majors are required to take the following courses: Software Engineering, Database Management, Internet and Web Technology, Systems Design and Implementation, and Technical Communications. CIS majors may choose to emphasize system software or information systems or computer and network security. The languages of instruction are Java and C++. Students may learn other languages or software platforms based on the high level courses need.

The total enrollment in each course is limited to maximize the interaction between faculty and students. The material is presented in a closely coordinated series of lectures. Concepts taught in the classroom are reinforced and tested through programming assignments. Students design, implement, and test components of their computer projects in the department’s computing laboratory. To encourage hand-on experiences, the department assigns credits to senior students who obtain internship opportunities.

The CIS department was established in 1979. Its graduates hold positions as application programmers and systems analysts, and are employed in the installation and operations of computer networks in various enterprises, including manufacturing, government, and business. Some CIS graduates are also pursuing graduate studies in computer science and/or management information systems.

The internet and web technologies have completely changed the way we conduct our daily lives and have created numerous opportunities for businesses to manage operations more efficiently and serve their customers more effectively. This has created tremendous opportunities for innovations in hardware/software and for tapping the enormous unrealized potential of information technologies for the benefit of society. Our graduates are prepared to participate in these innovative opportunities.

Requirements for the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree in Computer & Information Science

The Computer & Information Science (CIS) degree program focuses on the subjects of computers, their organization, and the programs that run them. Emphasis is placed on software rather than hardware. CIS majors may choose to specialize in either system software or information systems or computer and network security by appropriate selection of CIS electives. See sample programs at end of section.

MANAGEMENT INFORMATION SYSTEMS (MIS)

Management information systems (MIS) is a general term used to describe the computer-based information systems that provide operational information to an enterprise. The SABRE System is an example of a computer-based information system. Originally used only by American Airlines for passenger reservations, it is today a system connecting more than 40,000 travel agents and millions of consumers with more than 400 airlines, 50 car-rental companies, thousands of hotels, railways, tour companies, ferries and cruise lines. The MIS term is often used to describe the roles who work as varies management and data analysis work in these computer-based information systems.

The MIS degree program prepares students as technical managers who can rise to serve in various capacities in an enterprise, starting as System Analysts in MIS departments. The goal of the MIS program is to give students both a firm grounding in information processing as well as in business fundamentals. Therefore, MIS majors take a broad range of required courses both in CIS and business. The MIS curriculum includes courses in database management, software engineering, Internet and Web Technology, system design & implementation, and technical communications. These courses provide MIS majors with an extensive background in technical and organizational areas which serves as a solid foundation for understanding how new technological advances enhance the use of information resources for operations and strategic decision-making.

MATHEMATICS

Mathematics encompasses logic and reasoning skills that provide the tools for making decisions, interpreting observations, explaining natural phenomena, and solving problems. The Department aims to instill in students an appreciation of mathematics, and to equip students with the skills needed to achieve academic and career goals within a complex technological society. In addition to serving mathematics majors, the Department offers for business, science and liberal arts majors a number of courses that concentrate on problem solving.

The mission of the Bachelor of Science Degree in Mathematics is to teach students the fundamentals in a broad range of areas of mathematics, develop their skills in higher reasoning, logic, proof, abstraction, and mathematical modelling, and enable them to communicate mathematics effectively. The program prepares students for careers in the corporate, government and education sectors as well as for graduate school.

Career Opportunities

The study of undergraduate Mathematics provides essential preparation for a variety of professional careers. Throughout government and industry, mathematical modeling and quantitative methods lie at the heart of research, analysis and problem solving. Old Westbury’s Mathematics graduates have pursued graduate studies and successful careers in fields such as actuarial science, management science, finance, industrial engineering, operations research, and statistics.

Mathematics Learning Center

The Mathematics Learning Center (MLC) provides academic support for students taking mathematics courses and encourages students to develop a deeper appreciation and interest in mathematics. Staffed by professional educators and peer tutors, the MLC welcomes all students. The telephone number is 516-628-5622 Specific hours are announced each semester.

MEDIA AND COMMUNICATIONS
(AMERICAN STUDIES DEPARTMENT)

Distinguished Service Professor: Laura Anker
Professors: Aubrey Bonnett, Emeritus; Amanda Frisken, Karl Grossman
Associate Professors: Jermaine Archer, Chair
John Friedman, Carol Quirke, Sujani Reddy, Denton Watson
Assistant Professors: Llana Barber, Laura Chipley, Jasmine Mitchell, Samara Smith
Instructor: Andrew Mattson
Lecturer: Joseph Manfredi

The major in Media and Communications provides students with a broad-based education emphasizing theoretical, historical and experiential learning in an interdisciplinary context.

The Media and Communications major is located within the American Studies Department and its curriculum is designed to give students a grounding in the economic, political, social, and intellectual history of the U.S. A wide variety of courses is offered both on theoretical and practical levels, in communications and all varieties of media including radio and TV, newspapers, and inter-active media. Students will develop strong writing, reporting and other communications skills. The goal is to assist students in developing a critical view of the role and dynamics of media in contemporary society.

Students gain practical experience through internships in a variety of fields. They intern in media organizations ranging from television and radio stations to newspapers and magazines - throughout Long Island and the New York Metropolitan Area. This major is appropriate for students interested in careers in media. It also serves as a foundation for students who want to do graduate work in media studies, journalism and communications.

Evening Students
A limited selection of Media and Communications courses are available in the evening. Completion of a major in Media and Communications requires daytime course attendance.

Transfer Students
A Media and Communications major can be completed in a two year period with appropriate planning. With an advisor’s approval, a maximum of five courses will be accepted in transfer toward the 14 courses required for the major. Transfer students should note that AS2112-AS2122, The American People I-II, AS2802 Introduction to Media and Communications, and AS3800 Writing for Media are prerequisites for enrollment in 5000-level American Studies courses, as well as for a number of other courses in the major. It is essential that American People I-II, Introduction to Journalism and Media, and Writing for Media are taken in a transfer student’s first year at Old Westbury if the expectation of completing the program in two years is to be met. These courses must be taken prior to the senior year.

Requirements for a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) Degree in Media and Communications
(120 credits, 90 credits in liberal arts)

A. Liberal Education Curriculum
Refer to the Liberal Education Curriculum Bulletin for specific requirements.

B. Major Requirements
There are fourteen courses totaling 56 credits which include:

1. Knowledge of American Society (8 credits)
AS2112-AS2122 The American People I and II.
Students may substitute one of the following courses for AS2112 or AS2122: AS1282 Introduction to African American Studies; AS2252 U.S. Social Movements, AS2262 African American History I; AS2263 African American History II; AS2300 Problems in U.S.

Environmental History; AS2640 Intro to U.S. Latina/o History; AS3222 Urban History; AS3270 Africa In the Americas; AS3462 History of Women in the U.S.

Note: These courses should be taken as early as possible and, in no case, later than the junior year.

2. Media Studies Courses (12 credits)
Three of the following:
AS2020 New Media CE
AS2652 Media Studies
AS2700 The Engaged Eye
AS3310 From Citizen to Consumer
AS3632 History of U.S. Film
AS3712 American Film Genres
3. Writing, Analysis and Research  (12 credits)
   AS2802 Introduction to Journalism and Media
   AS3800 Writing for Media

5. Internship (4 credits)
   Students may take up to twelve credits in internships, but only four credits count toward the major. Students may take an internship off campus, but may also take an internship on campus at OWWR (Old Westbury Radio Station), The Catalyst (college newspaper) OWTV (Old Westbury TV), or the Collaborative Media Center.
   AS4832 Internship in Journalism and Media

6. Capping Courses (8 credits)
   Two of the following (Senior Level):
   AS5000 Topics in US History in Global Perspective
   AS5112 American Voices
   AS5200 Environmental Journalism
   AS5212 Narrative and History
   AS5312 History of US Culture
   AS5350 History of the Slave Narrative
   AS5412 Protest and Change
   AS5420 Propaganda & Mass Persuasion
   AS5712 Mass Media and Popular Culture
   AS5725 Senior Media Portfolio
   AS5800 Research in American History and Culture
   AS5862 The Journalist as Creative Writer

7. Portfolio Recommended
   All Media and Communications majors should assemble a portfolio for recognition of college work and for employment. The portfolio should contain samples of work done in courses and the Internship in Journalism. The portfolio should contain examples of written work, both published and submitted as class assignments, and selected graphics, radio programs and videos.

Program Policies:

1. All Media and Communications majors should see an adviser at least once a semester.
2. Only one grade of D+, D or D- will be accepted toward the major. Students must request this inclusion from the chair of American Studies.
3. A minimum GPA of 2.0 must be achieved in the major.
4. Only two 1000 or 2000 level courses will be counted toward the major beyond AS2802 and all "Knowledge of American Society" courses AS2112, 2122, 2252, 2262, 2263, 2300, 2640.
5. In order to qualify for independent study, students must have sophomore standing and a B (3.0) average. Only four credits of independent study will be counted toward the major.
6. Only four credits of internship can be applied toward the major. Students can take up to twelve credits which will be counted toward graduation, but only four will be applied toward the major. Students must see an adviser to plan their internship.
7. Only five courses can be transferred from another college or university and accepted for credit toward the major.
8. In general, 4000 and 5000 level courses will NOT be taught during the summer sessions.
9. All students in their junior year should make an appointment with the Chair to make sure that they are on track for graduation.
The Modern Languages Department offers a course of study leading to a Bachelor of Arts degree (B.A.) in Spanish Language, Hispanic Literature and Culture. In addition, Modern Languages has established close ties with the School of Education to prepare students for careers as foreign language (Spanish) teachers. Students may earn initial certification in the teaching of Spanish (Grades 7-12). It is also possible to obtain a non-teaching certificate and a minor in Spanish. Both of these options offer effective marketable skills that are in high demand in teaching and business careers, particularly in today’s multilingual and global economies. The Modern Languages Department is designed to serve the following groups:

- Students who are interested in acquiring communication skills in Spanish, French, Italian, Chinese, Arabic and American Sign Language
- Students who wish to major in Spanish Language, Hispanic Literature and Culture
- Childhood and Exceptional Education School of Education majors who want to complete a disciplinary concentration in Spanish
- Transfer students with an associate degree who wish to achieve a higher level of proficiency in Spanish and gain communication skills in the other languages offered by the Department.

Departmental Objectives
Interrelated objectives of the department are to:

- Assist students in mastering communication skills in all the aforementioned foreign languages and, concurrently, in developing an understanding of the cultural roots of those languages.
- Help students interested in pursuing graduate studies develop a sound knowledge of the language, literature and culture of Spain, Latin America and the Spanish-speaking Caribbean.

Careers and Graduate Education
The major equips students to pursue graduate programs in Spanish Language and Literature, and Latin American and Caribbean Studies, while the Spanish Certificate serves as evidence of language skills that are in high demand in teaching and business in today’s multilingual society.

The Café Latino
The Café Latino serves as a common ground for students in the major as well as other students interested in Hispanic and Latino cultures. The club is run by the students themselves with a faculty member as advisor.

Sigma Delta Pi
Sigma Delta Pi is a national honor society in Spanish. It honors those who seek to attain excellence in the study of Spanish and the literature and culture of Spanish-speaking peoples. To be eligible for active membership, a student must be enrolled in junior-level courses in Hispanic literature or Hispanic Culture and Civilization. Students enrolled in these courses are eligible for membership if their instructors certify that their work is B quality or better. They must have completed at least three semesters of college work, be in good standing, be genuinely interested in Hispanic culture, have a minimum grade point average of 3.00 in Spanish, and rank in the upper 35 percent of their class or have a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.00. For more information, access the SDP website at www.sigmadeltapi.org.

The Hispanic/Latino Cultural Center
Founded in 2003 by the faculty of the College’s Humanities & Languages Department, the Hispanic/Latino Cultural Center at SUNY Old Westbury celebrates the entire Spanish-speaking world including its Hispanic, Amerindian and African heritages. The Center serves the metropolitan New York area by presenting theatrical events, art exhibits, concerts, and educational forums geared towards improving the overall understanding, among people from all walks of life, of the contributions to world culture made by the men and women of Hispanic/Latino heritage.
Internships and Study Abroad

To help students explore career possibilities, the department has made arrangements for its students to assume internships for academic credit. Recent examples of internship sponsors include the Hispanic/Latino Cultural Center, community service agencies, the Nassau County Department of Assessment, and the Women’s Sport Foundation. Contact the Chairperson well before the semester begins to apply for a Modern Languages Department internship. Study Abroad programs in Spain, China, Cuba and Puerto Rico are available, along with scholarship assistance.

Evening Students

While several upper level courses are offered during the evening, at this time it is not possible to earn the B.A. degree in Spanish Language, Hispanic Literature and Culture by attending classes exclusively in the evening.

Transfer Students

Transfer students may be able to substitute courses taken elsewhere for the Department’s required courses. Up to three course substitutions may be possible for the degree in Spanish Language, Hispanic Literature and Culture. Consult the “Transfer of Credit Matrix” or “Articulation Agreement” for specific course equivalents for local community colleges.

Transfer students who wish to obtain a B.A. degree in Spanish language, Hispanic Literature and Culture must complete the 24-28 credits of upper-division coursework at SUNY Old Westbury.

Upon acceptance, students should present their transcripts to the Transfer Services Office for evaluation.

Requirements for Certificate in Spanish

All students who wish to receive a non-teaching certificate in Spanish must complete 20 Modern Languages credits with a grade point average of 2.30 (C+). The 20 credits must consist of five courses taught in Spanish. Candidates for the non-teaching certificate must obtain a Modern Languages faculty advisor. At the end of ML 3100 (or any ML 3000 level grammar course) students with a 2.3 (C+) GPA will be required to take the OPI exam and to pass it with a minimum of “Low Intermediate.” By the end of ML 3100 (or any ML 3000 level grammar course) students with a GPA lower than 2.3 will not be allowed to continue in the program.

Requirements for a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Spanish Language, Hispanic Literature and Culture

Majors must complete 44 credits in Spanish Language, Hispanic Literature and Culture. Students may choose between two options. Option I is for students interested in language acquisition and Hispanic culture and civilization. Option II is for students interested in Hispanic literature, culture and civilization. Spanish Language, Hispanic Literature and Culture majors must maintain a minimum grade point average within the major of 2.70 (B-). Only courses with grades of C+ or better count towards the credits required for the major.

At the end of ML 3362 (or any ML 3000 level grammar course) students with a 2.3 (C+) GPA will be required to take the OPI exam and to pass it with a minimum of “Low Intermediate.” By the end of ML 3362 (or any ML 3000 level grammar course) students with a GPA lower than 2.3 will not be allowed to continue in the Spanish Language, Literature and Culture major.

TOTAL CREDITS REQUIRED 120
Politics, Economics and Law (PEL), formerly Politics, Economics, and Society, is an interdisciplinary department in the social sciences with a national and international focus. Students majoring in PEL earn a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree. Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) and Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degrees in Industrial and Labor Relations are also offered by the PEL department. (See page 79). PEL has upper division concentrations in politics and law, economics, political economy, public policy and global studies.

The PEL department provides a rigorous and integrated preparation in the social sciences for students who intend to enter graduate or law school; for students who plan to seek employment in government, business, social services, and human rights and political organizations.

The PEL curriculum has various objectives: to introduce students to the disciplines of political science, political economy and economics and to examine how these different areas intersect to shape U.S. and international law, institutions, and policies. Such a course of study provides the student with a strong background in the historical development of corporations, social welfare policies, labor organizations, and civil liberties and civil rights movements.

PEL also provides students with an opportunity to develop an international perspective in the study of politics and economics - a vantage point vital in the new global marketplace. The department takes a comparative approach to the study of different societies and to the relations among them, with particular emphasis on the developing nations and globalization. The global component focuses on issues such as international trade, foreign debt, economic inequality, transnational political and social movements, environmental concerns and international institutions.

Internships

PEL students are encouraged to gain practical experience by undertaking an internship as part of their course of study. Among the internships students have successfully completed are:

- Washington Semester Internship
- New York State Senate and Assembly
- Office of the County District Attorney
- New York City Summer Internship
- County Legislature
- Political Campaigns – U.S. Senate to County Legislature
- New York Public Interest Research Group
- Private Law and Financial Firms
- Nonprofit Organizations
- Labor Unions

Pre Law Center

The Pre Law Center offers information and resources on law schools, the law school admission process, and law-related careers. Specifically, The Pre Law Center has:

1) timetables describing what one needs to do, when, and how, to apply to law schools
2) materials on preparing for the LSAT and free practice LSATs, usually once per semester
3) admission, financial aid, and other information on every law school in the U.S.
4) tips for, and editing of, your personal statement and information on financial aid for law schools
5) an advisor to keep you on track in the application process
6) informational and networking events with those in the legal profession, and with other prelaw students
7) internships, some in conjunction with CSTEP
8) guidance on career opportunities in law

Careers
PEL graduates have pursued graduate studies in the social sciences and applied social sciences such as public administration, social work, urban studies, public policy and international relations. They have gone on to have careers in law, diplomacy, education, business, finance and public service in community agencies as well as county and state government.

Transfer Students
A maximum of five courses may be transferred from an accredited institution toward the PEL major, and a maximum may count as upper division courses. A transferred two-course sequence offering two credits per course is equivalent to one course in the major.

Evening Students
The PEL department offers required and elective courses on a rotating basis from 5:30 p.m. to 10:20 p.m. to accommodate evening students. However, evening majors should note that completion of their degrees may take longer than normal.

Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) Degree in Politics, Economics & Law
The core of the curriculum in this major consists of a sequence of required courses designed to provide students with the analytical, conceptual, theoretical and methodological tools for studying contemporary national and international problems.

Requirements for a B.A. Degree in Politics, Economics & Law
A student wishing to graduate with a major in PEL must complete 120 credits overall including a minimum of 90 liberal arts credits, fulfillment of the Liberal Education Curriculum requirement (Refer to the Liberal Education Curriculum Bulletin for specific requirements.) and 52 credits, or 13 courses, as listed below.

1-3. Three of the following four courses:
   PE2300 Introduction to Law 4
   PE2420 Principles of Microeconomics 4
   PE2430 Principles of Macroeconomics 4
   PE2650 Introduction to U.S. Politics 4

4. An additional course from the four courses listed above
   OR one of the following:
   IR2210 Unions and Management: An Introduction 4
   PE2220 Introduction to Urban Issues 4
   PE2400 Introduction to Political Economy 4

5. One of the following:
   HI3600 Global Geography: People, Places and Environments 4
   PE3100 International Relations 4

6. PE3400 Political Economy of the Global South 4
7. PE3410 U.S. Political Economy 4
8. One of the following:
   PE4320 Jurisprudence: Legal Thought 4
   PE4470 History of Economic Thought 4
   PE4620 Political and Social Thought 4
9. One of the following:
   PE4580 Origins of the Capitalist Economy 4
   PE4590 Global Economy in the 20th Century 4
10-13. Four additional upper-division PEL courses, which may include Industrial and Labor Relations ("ILR") courses (3000-level and above), at least two of which must be at the 4000-level

Competency requirement in the major
In order to graduate with a B.A. degree in Politics, Economics and Law, a student may receive no grade lower than a C- in courses applied toward the major.
Upper Division Electives

Students are expected to work closely with their faculty advisor in choosing their upper division electives in the major. The objective is to select courses that are related to each student’s area of interest. Courses not chosen to fill requirements 5, 8 and 9 may be applied toward the four additional upper division PEL courses (10-13).

Minors

The PEL department co-sponsors four minors with other departments in the School of Arts and Sciences. Also, it offers a minor in Industrial and Labor Relations and Economics. The specific minors offered by the PEL department are:

- Economics
- Environmental Studies
- Global Studies
- Industrial and Labor Relations
- Pre-Law
- Public Policy

For specific requirements, please refer to pages 131-151

Economics Minor

The economics minor is intended to familiarize students with the economic aspects of society, to develop their ability to use economic theory and techniques to analyze contemporary social issues, and exercise judgment in evaluating public policy. Students interested in further study or careers in business (management or finance), international relations, law as well as public policy areas such as environmental policy, public health, urban studies or civil service will benefit from this minor’s more in-depth training in the tools of economists.

Environmental Studies Minor

Students interested in environmental issues may enhance their knowledge of the interaction of humans with their environment by minoring in Environmental Studies. This interdisciplinary course of studies exposes the student to both environmental sciences as practiced in biology and chemistry, as well as policy issues, which are explored from a social science perspective. Students who are majoring in the natural sciences may wish to pursue this minor in preparation for a career in environmental research. Students in the Social Sciences and Humanities may want to broaden their knowledge of environmental issues in preparation for a career involving environmental policy or law. Direct participation in environmental agencies and organizations on Long Island or independent laboratory research on an environmental problem is an important aspect of this minor.

Global Studies Minor

The Global Studies minor offers a transnational perspective that has become critical for college students regardless of their major and career goals. It contains two options. The first option brings together international and regional courses offered in English, History, and Philosophy and Politics, Economics and Law. History and Philosophy contributes courses in history, literature and culture (a cross-cultural course from Sociology is also included), and Politics, Economics and Law in politics, international relations, economics, political economy and economic history. The second option incorporates foreign language courses from Modern Languages. School of Education candidates for New York State secondary school certification will find this minor helpful.

Industrial and Labor Relations Minor

The Industrial and Labor Relations minor aims to assist students in advancing careers in this area, whether in the private or public sector. Its required courses include Unions and Management, Unions and Public Policy, and Collective Bargaining. There is a wide range of elective courses on topics such as arbitration and mediation; the history of American labor relations; women, minorities and work; and labor and employment law.

Model United Nations

As a component part of PEL’s objective to prepare students to become thoughtful and engaged global citizens, the department offers the Model United Nations course. This non-traditional course prepares students for a week-long Model United Nations conference where students simulate the role of diplomats from an assigned country. During the course and at the conference, students learn about current issues on the global agenda of the United Nations; become specialists on domestic and foreign policies of their assigned country; practice the science and art of diplomacy by engaging in negotiations with students from around the world; obtain an unparalleled experience in conducting primary research; and practice public speaking in front of a global audience.
Pre-Law Minor
The Pre-Law minor is open to all academic majors who are interested in applying to law school. Since only one course in a student's major can be used to satisfy the requirements of a minor, American Studies, History and Philosophy, Politics, Economics and Law and Sociology majors opting for the pre-law minor must choose courses offered by departments other than their own. Majors in all other academic departments have a free choice of courses within various categories.

Public Policy Minor
The Public Policy minor is useful to students in all academic majors as well as to those who wish to pursue graduate studies in fields such as public affairs, public administration, urban and suburban planning, and policy analysis. The minor is particularly valuable to students in the School of Education who are interested in pursuing New York State secondary school certification in social studies.
Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree Requirements

In addition to meeting all the requirements for the B.A., students wishing to earn a Bachelor of Science degree must complete the following:

- Math at the Pre-calculus level or higher (Currently, MA2090) AND
- Two years (4 semesters) of science courses (Biology, Chemistry, and/or Physics). Courses for non-science majors (e.g., BS2100 Bio for Non-Majors, CP2300 Weather Studies, CP2400 Ocean Studies, CP2500 Climate Studies) cannot be applied toward the B.S. degree.

Students wishing to earn the B.S. degree must have their program approved by a faculty advisor in the Psychology Department no later than the end of the first half of their junior year.

See section on Progressing Through the Major for important information on pre-requisites and minimum grade requirements.
Declaring a Major

The Psychology Department must approve the Application for Psychology Major before students may declare a major in Psychology. All students must meet with a faculty advisor in the Psychology Department, and bring a transcript of all courses taken at Old Westbury and elsewhere.

In order to be able to declare a major in Psychology, students must meet the following requirements:

1. At least 32 credits, taken either at Old Westbury or elsewhere
2. Math and English Proficiency
3. Cumulative GPA of 2.50 or higher
4. Introduction to Psychology (PY 2010) or its equivalent with a grade of C or higher
5. One other Psychology course applicable to the requirements for the major with a grade of C or higher

Progressing Through the Major: Guidance and Important Information

1. Completion of Introduction to Psychology with a minimum grade of C is a prerequisite for most courses in the major. Earning a score of 3 or better on an AP Psychology exam meets this requirement.
2. In order to be able to register for Research Design & Analysis I, students must have earned a C or better in Introduction to Psychology and they must be proficient in both English (EMS) and Math. (Check “Proficiency Requirements” section of the Catalog for more information.)
   • EMS (English Mastery Satisfied) is achieved after completing both English Composition I & II with a minimum grade of C; a score of 3 or better on an Advanced Placement (AP) English exam can exempt a student from ECI.
   • Math Proficiency is established by completing any of the following courses with a C or better: MA1020, MA2000, MA2050; a score of 3 or higher on AP Calculus or Statistics exam may also satisfy proficiency.
3. Students must earn a grade of C or better in Research Design & Analysis I in order to proceed to Research Design & Analysis II.
4. Students who wish to register for Field Experience & Research must have earned a C or better in Introduction to Psychology and in Research Design & Analysis I, and must have completed at least 24 credits in Psychology. Students also must attend a scheduled Field Orientation Meeting before the semester begins.
5. Senior Seminar is a 5000-level course in a specific area of psychology. In order to register for a senior seminar course, students must have earned a C or better in Introduction to Psychology and in Research Design & Analysis I, and must have completed at least 24 credits in Psychology. Other prerequisites apply, depending on the specific Senior Seminar course.

Transfer Students

General Guidelines

1. Transfer students must complete 42-44 credits in psychology to complete the major. At least 24 of these must be taken at Old Westbury.
2. A maximum of 20 approved and applicable credits can be applied to the major from transfer institutions. Additional psychology credits can count toward the baccalaureate degree but not toward the requirements for the major.
3. Course credits will be transferred based upon the number of credits earned at the previous institution, even though a similar course at Old Westbury may earn fewer or more credits.
4. All transfer students are strongly encouraged to speak with a faculty advisor in the Psychology Department to discuss the requirements for the major and plan a course of study that ensures a timely completion of the degree.

Evening Students

The Psychology Department offers the required core courses and electives in the evening on a rotating basis; however, completion of the major typically takes longer for evening-only students.
Consistent with the College’s core social-justice mission, Public Health has been taught since the College’s inception with a strong emphasis on the social determinants of health.

Public Health is an increasingly well-known and important field of study. Many colleges have created public health departments in recent years. Old Westbury students, however, have the benefit of a program that has been teaching undergraduates the core principles and disciplines of public health for many years.

In Public Health, students learn how the social, political and economic environment shape our ability to lead decent, healthy, productive lives. Students learn about health professions, careers and the institutions of the U.S. health care system; study the foundational public health principles of epidemiology, biostatistics and research methods; conduct internships and research in community-based health-care settings, developing contacts and real-world experience; and study a wide range of health-related topics from health care administration to public health ethics, from health education to women’s health, from aging to health law and health policy, nutrition, human sexuality, substance use and numerous other areas of special interest.

COURSE OF STUDY

The course of study offered in Public Health prepares students for employment in public health departments, public health education and promotion, health-care administration, social work, counseling, and numerous other health-related fields, as well as provides a solid foundation for graduate-level study in these and other public health and related fields.

As described in the Requirements for a Bachelor of Science degree in Health and Society (offered by the Public Health Department) below, students must complete one semester of Biology, an introductory-level course in Statistics, and seven core courses in the major. In addition, students will choose three courses from among the Public Health electives.

PE4430*  Health Economics

PY3020*  Health Psychology
SY3750*  Medical Sociology

*These courses, in other departments, are also accepted as Public Health electives.

Field Placement
All Public Health students must complete a 90-hour internship. Depending on their interests, students work in a wide variety of health settings. The fieldwork experience is an integral part of the Public Health program.

SOCILOGY DEPARTMENT

Professor:  Gilda Zwerman
Associate Professors:  Lee Blackstone, Chair; Jacob Heller, Eileen Landy (on leave), Diana Papademas, Ryoko Yamamoto
Assistant Professors:  Jillian Crocker, Peter Ikeler, Laura Limonic, Dana Prewitt, Amanda Shigihara
Visiting Instructors:  Rachel Kalish, Keisha Goode

MISSION STATEMENT
The Sociology Department provides students with a liberal arts education based on a sociological understanding of human behavior, culture, and society through scientific inquiry. Our majors in Sociology and Criminology provide a foundation for intellectual development, civic responsibility, global awareness, and the pursuance of social justice in a diverse society. The Department empowers students with an opportunity to conduct original research and encourages them to assess social issues critically. The Sociology Department’s faculty are committed to preparing students from every background for graduate degree programs, as well as for careers in teaching, social work, law, research-oriented positions, and a variety of other professional endeavors.

The Department of Sociology offers two majors in Sociology, which lead to either a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) or a Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree, and a major in Criminology, which leads to a Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree. The Department serves all students interested in acquiring sociological knowledge. Most courses are open to both majors and non-majors. The sociological perspective offers students an opportunity to develop and refine their ‘sociological imagination’, through which the dynamics, principles, and patterns that govern human interaction and social structure are critically understood. At Old Westbury, students will learn the substantive knowledge, theories and methods of the discipline. Students exposed to sociology or criminology in this way will be enabled to analyze and interpret complex patterns in quantitative and qualitative data, thereby increasing and clarifying their understanding of social life.

THE SOCIOLOGY MAJOR
The Sociology Major has five components.

• Basic courses provide students who have no training in sociology with a general introduction to the discipline.
• Foundation courses provide necessary grounding in sociological theory, analysis and methods.
• Cross-cultural component courses which will enhance sociological analysis in a global perspective.
• Elective courses chosen by majors allow students to delve more deeply in specific areas. (These courses are open to non-majors as well.)
• The senior seminar capstone course requires all majors to conduct an original primary research project and complete a senior thesis.

Evening Students
The Department offers a full-time major for day and evening students. Students who plan to earn a B.A. or B.S. degree in Sociology by attending only evening classes should expect to spend three or more additional years.

Graduate School Preparation
The major in sociology prepares students for a wide variety of graduate and professional programs, including Social Work, Social Policy and Law as well as graduate study leading to the Ph.D. Students intending to pursue graduate education should consult a faculty advisor.

LEARNING OUTCOMES
Sociology majors will demonstrate:

• Knowledge of key theories, concepts, and perspectives in the discipline, and the ability to critically apply them when analyzing social phenomena
• Knowledge of research skills and techniques commonly utilized by social scientists, and the ability to apply them when examining social phenomena

Requirements for a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) Degree or Bachelor of Science (B.S.)
Degree in Sociology
Total credits required: 120 (90 credits of liberal arts are required for the B.A. degree; 60 credits of liberal arts are required for the B.S. degree.) A minimum grade of C- or higher is required for all courses counted toward the major.

A. Liberal Education Curriculum
Refer to the Liberal Education Curriculum Bulletin for specific requirements.

B. Major Requirements:          40 credits
In addition to college-wide requirements, students majoring in sociology must pass a minimum of ten courses, each with a grade of C- or better, and maintain a minimum 2.0 GPA in the major. The specific course requirements for the major are:

1. SY1500 Introductory Sociology        4 credits
2. Three elective courses from the following list. At least two of these three elective courses must be at the 4000-level. Freshmen and Sophomores are encouraged to take electives at the 2000 and 3000 level.     12 credits

4. Cross Cultural Component        4 credits
   One course chosen from among the following list:
   CR3094 Drugs and Society
   CR3200 Crime, Media and Culture
   SY3160 Sociology of Culture
   SY3700 Family and Society
   SY4500 Global Sociology
   SY4651 Sociology of Communications and Media
   SY4950 Sociology of Music
   SY5990 Senior Seminar
6. Students may repeat any Sociology/Criminology course used to fulfill their major requirements, only once.

C. General Electives
In consultation with an academic advisor

Transfer Students
The Sociology Department permits the application of transfer credits toward the major with these limitations:

1. Introductory Sociology may be transferred.

2. Up to two additional courses may be transferred toward the requirements of the major, one of which may be a foundation course if passed with a grade of C- or better at an accredited four-year college or university.

   a. they may be drawn from the courses approved in articulation agreements with other colleges;

   b. they may be drawn from courses taken at other colleges, provided they have been reviewed and approved by a Sociology faculty member.

Requests for exceptions will be considered in accordance with established department policies and procedures.

Special Requirements
Senior standing in sociology requires a student to have:

1. Completed 100 credits (including transfer credits);

2. Satisfied the College-wide requirements of mastery in English and computational skills;

3. Passed all foundation courses (SY4520, SY4530, SY4540, SY4570) and at least one 4000-level elective, all with a “C-” or better.

To enroll in the Senior Seminar (SY5990), students must have attained senior standing as majors in sociology, and have successfully completed SY4520 Research Methods I, SY4530 Sociological Theory I, SY4540 Sociological Theory II, and SY4570 Research Methods II.

THE CRIMINOLOGY MAJOR
The Criminology major is offered by the Sociology Department, and therefore it draws extensively from the sociological discipline to prepare students for understanding crime and delinquency. The major in criminology leads to the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree. The Sociology Department provides students with the tools to critically evaluate the structural, cultural and institutional social forces which affect the processes of making laws, breaking laws, and the societal reactions towards deviance and the breaking of laws. The major is highly relevant to those seeking to advance in the fields of law enforcement, corrections, and legal professions.

The Criminology Major has four components:

1. Basic courses provide students who have no training in sociology with a general introduction to the discipline.

2. Foundation courses provide necessary grounding in sociological and criminological theory, analysis, and methods.

3. Elective courses chosen by majors allow students to delve more deeply in specific areas pertaining to both criminological and sociological study. (These courses are open to non-majors as well.)

4. The Senior Seminar Capstone course requires all majors to conduct an original primary research project and complete a senior thesis.

LEARNING OUTCOMES
Criminology majors will demonstrate:

- Knowledge of key theories, concepts, and perspectives in the discipline, and the ability to critically apply them when analyzing social phenomena

- Knowledge of research skills and techniques commonly utilized by social scientists, and the ability to apply them to phenomena surrounding crime, deviance, and legal institutions

Requirements for a Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree in Criminology
A total of 120 credits is required for the B.S. degree, including a minimum of 60 credits of liberal arts. A minimum
A. Liberal Education Curriculum
Refer to the Liberal Education Curriculum Bulletin for specific requirements.

B. Major Requirements: 40 credits

C. General Electives

Evening Students
While some courses may be offered in the evening, the full array of courses will only be available during the day. The major cannot, at this time, be completed in the evening.

Transfer Students
The Sociology Department permits the application of credits for up to three courses toward the major in Criminology with these limitations: Introductory Sociology and/or Introduction to Criminology may be transferred from colleges with which we have articulation agreements that include such an equivalent course. One additional course may be transferred to apply to the major electives, provided that it has been reviewed and deemed equivalent by a Sociology Department Faculty Advisor or students may use one transfer course to substitute for a foundation course if passed with a grade of C- or better at an accredited four-year college or university. Exceptions to these rules will be considered in accordance with established department policies and procedures.

Special Requirements:
Senior Standing in Criminology requires a student to have:
1. Completed 100 credits (including transfer credits);
2. Satisfied the College-wide requirements of mastery in English and computational skills;
3. Passed all foundation courses (SY4520, SY4530, SY4570, and CR4550) and at least one 4000-level elective, all with a “C-” or better.

To enroll in the Senior Seminar (SY5990), students must have a attained senior standing as majors in criminology, and have successfully completed SY 4520, Research Methods I, SY 4530 Sociological Theory I, CR 4550 Theories of Crime, and SY 4570 Research Methods II.

Social Work Minor
The interdisciplinary minor in Social Work is designed to provide a concentration for students in all academic majors who have an interest in Social Work. The minor is particularly useful to students planning a career in Social Work. The minor offers students an opportunity to study selected areas of social work. The minor requires five courses (20 credits) distributed in five clusters. A minimum of 16 credits must be taken outside the student’s major. No more than one course may be transferred from another institution. Refer to Catalog section entitled “Minors” for specific requirements.
VISUAL ARTS DEPARTMENT

Associate Professors: Catherine Bernard, Patricia Harris, Patricia McLaughlin, Chair
Assistant Professors: Eric Hagan, Frederick Fleisher
Director, Amelie A. Wallace Gallery: Hyewon Yi

Students may earn a Bachelor of Arts degree (B.A.) in Visual Arts, a Bachelor of Science degree (B.S.) in Visual Arts: Electronic Media or a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree (B.F.A) with two concentrations: Studio Arts and Electronic Media, by completing requirements in the Visual Arts program.

The Visual Arts Program focuses on a problem and project oriented course of study. Skills are developed as students need them; thus students feel free to use and even invent media related to expressive needs. Students do not have to postpone creation until they have mastered a whole set of techniques. Students are urged to blend technical education with creative projects.

The aim of the department is to develop students’ awareness of creative processes as well as their understanding of the relationships between art and society. The program of study for majors includes the study of art history and an introduction to the practical problems associated with the pursuit of careers in art. Faculty emphasize the appropriate selection of elective courses in non-art areas. Specific courses in economics, anthropology, sociology, basic sciences, psychology and business are recommended.

The department’s course of study is divided into three levels. First, the foundation level allows students to differentiate between authentic personal decisions and those dictated by social and cultural conditions. Second, a tutorial level allows students to focus on creative problems connected with their personal decisions and to understand their relation to the decisions of others. Third, a final critical level enables students to develop a quality control for the formal solutions of the projects and to relate them to the larger professional world.

As the student’s work develops, their main area of interest will inform their choice of internship as well as their decision whether to pursue a B.A., B.S., or B.F.A. degree. B.A. and B.S. students will take part in a group exhibition in the Amelie A. Wallace Gallery. BFA students will have a one-person exhibition in this same gallery.

Professionally, Visual Arts graduates have chosen either to continue their education by pursuing a Master of Arts degree, or to enter directly into the work world. A sampling of careers that graduates have entered include: advertising, graphic and corporate design, interior design, typography, photography, gallery management, art therapy, publishing, television and teaching.

Liberal Education Curriculum Notes

Students who are not Visual Arts majors are encouraged to take courses in art to broaden their education and strengthen their skills. Non-majors may select from the following list of Visual Arts courses in fulfilling their Liberal Education Curriculum requirement.

The Women and Gender Studies Program offers a minor (see Minors) as well as independent studies and internships. It is also affiliated with the Women’s Center (see below).

Women and Gender Studies is a multidisciplinary field that examines the creation, reconstruction, and perpetuation of asymmetrical sex and gender systems, as well as their connections to other systems of power and inequality. It explores the ways in which gender intersects with women’s and men’s personal identities, health and well-being, social and cultural arrangements, economic and political systems, and our ways of knowing and understanding the world.

The minor examines how ideologies of sex and gender have influenced and been influenced by culture and society; literature and the arts; law and public policy; and health, science, and technology. It closes gaps in traditional higher education resulting from the exclusion of women and other marginalized groups from many fields of study.

This program of study empowers students through a feminist critique of social, cultural, and institutional structures that enables them to think more critically about their own lives and that inspires them to work as active citizens for social justice. The knowledge and skills attained from the Women and Gender Studies minor are valuable in such fields as education, social work, art, literature, business and human resources, scientific research and the health professions, law and public policy, media production, nonprofit advocacy, psychology, and information technology.

WOMEN’S CENTER

The Women’s Center is a resource center and safe space for the students, staff, faculty, and administration of the College at Old Westbury. It has three main goals:

• To educate and empower women and men about issues of gender and sexuality, health and well-being, and achievement
• To raise awareness of and to reduce gender and sexual discrimination and violence
• To champion diversity, to advocate for equity, to build community, and to promote social justice

The Center sponsors presentations, workshops, and film series as well as housing a small lending library on such topics as sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating and domestic violence, stalking, equal pay, equal job opportunities, equal sports opportunities, general women’s health and wellness, sexual health, stereotypes of gender and sexuality, LGBT issues, eating disorders, poverty, pregnancy, contraception and abortion, parenting, etc. It offers opportunities for student internships, service learning, volunteering and work study, and also provides resources and referrals on all of the above issues.

The Women’s Center also works closely with Student Affairs, Counseling and Career Services, Student Health Services, the First Year Experience Program, Residential Life, University Police, and the Nassau County Coalition Against Domestic Violence, to promote health and well being, to raise awareness of domestic and dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking and to prevent and reduce these crimes on campus.
Mission:
The mission of the School of Business at State University of New York at Old Westbury is to provide access and support to empower our students with knowledge, skills and values to think critically, communicate effectively and act responsibly.

Vision:
The School of Business at State University of New York at Old Westbury strives to be a notable business school in the region, offering quality undergraduate and graduate education through a distinguished faculty devoted to teaching excellence and relevant research, with a commitment to continued engagement, impact and innovation.

The School of Business will achieve this vision through:

• Excellence in teaching, utilizing a comprehensive curriculum
• Professional development for enhancing teaching and research skills
• Input from students, alumni, business practitioners, and community leaders to enrich our programs
• Intellectual, career, and leadership development opportunities for students by engagement with professionals in their field of study
• Continuous improvement of our programs by identifying opportunities for improvement and taking appropriate actions to enhance learning

The Core Values to which we are committed are:

• Excellence pursued through innovation in teaching, research, and service to create a positive learning experience, intellectual rigor, and shared knowledge
• Integrity promoted by professionalism supported by ethical behavior, teamwork, mutual respect, and appreciation for our diverse world
• Student Centeredness provided by personalized attention in a supportive environment to students in small classes, with ongoing academic and career advising, and effective interaction with administration, faculty, and staff

Evening Students
The School of Business offers required and elective courses on a rotating basis from 5:30 p.m. to 10:20 p.m. to accommodate evening students. However, evening majors should note that not all courses are offered every semester in the evening; therefore, completion of their degrees may take longer than normal.

ADMISSION TO THE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS
Admission to any of the academic departments within the School of Business is a separate process from that of admission to the College. The College admission process is conducted through the Office of Enrollment Services and requires that official copies of all prior transcripts be sent directly to the Office of Enrollment Services.

Students who are seeking admission must have completed at least 32 undergraduate credits and are required to submit unofficial or student copies of transcripts of all previous study to the Assistant Dean, School of Business. First-time to college students who have been admitted into the College’s Honors College may be admitted directly into the School of Business without needing to satisfy the minimum credit requirement. Admission into any of the business degree programs will be granted to students who have earned a minimum cumulative grade-point average (GPA) of 2.70. Beginning in Spring 2019 the minimum cumulative GPA requirement will be 3.00. Students who wish to major in Accounting must have a minimum cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 3.00. The admissions cumulative GPA will be based on courses completed at Old Westbury and on all transfer transcripts.
submitted to Enrollment Services, and the Transfer Services Office. Students who do not have the minimum entry GPA may apply directly to the Office of Enrollment Services for an application for Special Consideration admission to the School of Business.

All students who are granted admission to the School of Business will have an entry interview with the Assistant Dean to discuss the following:

- Determine which degree program within the School would be most appropriate to achieve their educational and career goals
- Analyze previous academic transcripts to establish course equivalencies and waivers for departmental and college Liberal Education Curriculum requirements
- Delineate all departmental and college course and credit requirements for the degree selected and provide students with a comprehensive advisement guide that will enable them to fulfill course prerequisites and degree requirements in an orderly manner
- As part of our on-going advisement system students will be assigned a faculty advisor in their chosen discipline who will mentor and assist them in the interpretation of College, School of Business and departmental regulations, graduation requirements and the selection of an appropriate sequence of courses.

NON-MATRICULATED STUDENTS

Students who wish to continue their education by taking credit courses, without pursuing a degree, may elect to attend the college under a non-matriculated status. This option may be used by students who currently hold a bachelor’s degree in a field of business and wish to take undergraduate courses needed to either enter the graduate program or to complete the courses that are required by the State Education Department to sit for the CPA examination. Such students should meet with the Assistant Dean to have their previous academic records evaluated and to determine what course/credit requirements need to be satisfied.

School of Business General Requirements

1. A minimum of 120 credits for the B.S. in Business Administration and 126 credits for the B.S. in Accounting
2. Sixty (60) credits in liberal arts
3. A minimum residence of 40 credits (BS in Business Administration) and 46 credits (BS in Accounting) at the College at Old Westbury, with at least 50% of the major curriculum courses completed at Old Westbury.
4. To graduate with a B.S. degree from the School of Business, a student must achieve both a 2.50 cumulative GPA in Old Westbury business curriculum courses and a cumulative GPA of 2.50 for all Old Westbury course work.

ACADEMIC STANDING

All students in the School of Business are expected to maintain a minimum 2.50 cumulative grade point average (GPA) in BOTH their business curriculum and in overall OW residence courses in order to continue in any major within the School of Business. If a student’s overall GPA falls below this level, he/she is placed on academic probation within the School of Business. Two (2) successive semesters with a GPA below 2.50 may lead to dismissal from the School of Business. Appeals of such dismissals must be made directly to the School of Business Academic Review Committee.

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

The School of Business offers an optional internship program for academic credit to those students who meet the eligibility requirements. It is designed to help students gain practical experience and explore career possibilities. Students who are interested in pursuing an academic internship are responsible for finding an internship in their major and getting approval from the School of Business one semester prior to the semester during which the internship is to commence.
The objective of this course of study is to provide students with the analytical skills and knowledge to enter any area of the accounting profession. Although the program is designed to prepare the student for entry into public accountancy, graduates are well prepared to meet the accounting needs of all types of enterprises.

While the College offers a B.S. degree in Accounting, a student who wishes to be licensed as a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) in New York State must now meet a more extensive education requirement. This generally requires completion of a 150-credit hour program of study.

Students who complete both their B.S. degree in Accounting and either their M.S. degree in Accounting or M.S. degree in Taxation at SUNY Old Westbury will satisfy this requirement.

Students who have completed their undergraduate course of study at another educational institution may enter the M.S. program to satisfy the 150-credit hour program of study required to obtain a New York State CPA license. The College offers M.S. programs both for students who have an undergraduate degree in Accounting and for those students who obtained an undergraduate degree in another area.

The College offers combined B.S/M.S. programs in Accounting and Taxation. The prestigious combined B.S. /M.S. programs offer a directed approach to students who wish to obtain a CPA license. Students in the programs are required to take six fewer credits than those students who independently obtain the degrees, yet they receive all of the educational and professional benefits of obtaining the B.S. and M.S. degrees. Students enrolled in the programs have the advantage of being notified of acceptance into the graduate portion of the program prior to their senior year. In addition, students applying for admission into the combined B.S. /M.S. programs who attain the required undergraduate GPA do not need to take the GMAT exam to be admitted to the graduate school.

Each of the combined B.S/M.S. programs has been registered with the State of New York and will fully satisfy the education requirements needed to obtain a New York State CPA license.

MANAGEMENT, MARKETING AND FINANCE

Professors: Madeline Crocitto

Assistant Professors: Yu Lei, Katarzyna Platt, Michael Onorato

The Department of Management, Marketing, and Finance offers Bachelor of Science degrees in Business Administration, Marketing and Finance. The Department is committed to providing a high quality business education to its students through its curriculum, teaching, academic support services, and placement and internship programs. The curriculum of each major is divided into two parts: a common core of business courses and courses in specialized areas of their disciplines.

The Business Administration degree focuses on the delivery of management knowledge and the practice of effective skills. Two areas of specialization are provided to accomplish the overall objective: Management and General Business. The purpose of the Management specialization is to present detailed and current information on the field while encouraging students to acquire the necessary knowledge and skills to function effectively in a variety of managerial activities. The General Business specialization’s purpose is to provide students with a foundation in the functional areas of business and with the necessary theories and interpersonal skills to assume positions in a variety of industries, organizational types and/or functional areas.

The Marketing degree offers a path to exciting careers in our ever expanding marketplace with attention to ethically positioning goods and services for domestic and international markets. It explores marketing as a sustainable means of conceiving, pricing, distributing, acquiring and consuming goods and services in an increasingly competitive global economy. The emphasis is on managing and improving customer relationships by focusing on customer needs and developing products that satisfy these needs and provide superior value. The learning trajectory covers product development, branding and advertising, marketing research, logistics, and sales promotion using traditional and new media in campaigns coordinated around integrated marketing communications (IMC). Students are prepared for marketing careers and for graduate MBAs as they continue their education with the holistic foundation.

The Finance degree provides students with the mastery of skills needed to facilitate, organize, analyze, and evaluate financial transactions in domestic as well as global financial markets. The core courses convey the cognitive and analytic competencies that underlie the discipline of finance. The specialized courses emphasize and reinforce the conceptual and quantitative underpinnings of financial transactions. Students are prepared for gainful employment in financial institutions including: investment banks, finance companies, and financial intermediaries such as commercial banks, savings banks, and insurance companies. Students are also prepared for employment in: brokerage firms, investment advisory services, finance departments of non-financial corporations, nonprofit institutions, and governmental agencies.

The School of Education at SUNY Old Westbury is proud to be among those institutions who have earned accreditation from the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE), www.ncate.org., a specialized accrediting agency recognized by the U.S. Secretary of Education and the Council for Higher Education Accreditation. This accreditation covers initial teacher preparation programs and/or advanced educator preparation programs at Old Westbury. However, the accreditation does not include individual education courses that Old Westbury offers to P-12 educators for professional development, relicensure, or other purposes.

Graduates from an NCATE accredited teacher preparation program are in high demand because they are well-prepared for initial licensing and advanced board certification. Many states have reciprocity agreements based on graduation from NCATE accredited schools, so graduates of NCATE-accredited schools will generally find it easier to apply for a teaching license should they move out of state.

By achieving NCATE accreditation, the Old Westbury School of Education has illustrated that its teacher preparation program has met national standards set by the teaching profession and has undergone rigorous, external, impartial review by professionals, policy makers, and representatives of the public.

The mission of the School of Education is to prepare teacher candidates to be literate and progressive citizens who value human diversity and exemplify an appreciation for the interdisciplinary nature of knowledge and for learning as a lifelong process. The school seeks to develop teachers with the professional and personal characteristics and dispositions to facilitate the holistic development of all learners in the context of contemporary society.

Together with partners across the College and in the schools, faculty of the School of Education have developed a Conceptual Framework to implement the above mission and vision. The Conceptual Framework rests on three principles: a commitment to preparing teachers as professionals; a belief in the interdisciplinary nature of knowledge and practice; and an active engagement in promoting a just world. Teacher candidates explore these principles through course work and guided practice.

The School of Education comprises three departments: Childhood Education and Literacy, Exceptional Education and Learning and Adolescence Education. We offer programs leading to initial teacher certification in the following areas:

- Childhood Education – grades 1-6
- Childhood Education – grades 1-6 extended to Bilingual Education
- Special Education with Childhood Education – grades 1-6
- Special Education extended to Bilingual Education – grades 1-6
- Middle Childhood Education – grades 5-9 - in Biology or Chemistry or Mathematics
- Adolescence Education – grades 7-12 - in Biology or Chemistry or Mathematics or Social Studies

These programs provide professional courses and extensive field experience, including student teaching. Each course is planned to assist students in acquiring the knowledge and skills that will help them transmit the requisites of the New York State Learning Standards. All courses are designed so that students achieve competencies that have been identified by local school district personnel and prescribed by the New York State Education Department.

The School of Education has adopted a series of requirements for candidates at various transition points as they are admitted to and progress through the program. Further details about these requirements may be found in this catalog and in publications available from the School of Education.

* Additional requirements will be furnished upon admission to the School of Education.

* All School of Education requirements are contingent upon NYSED and SUNY graduation requirements and national accreditation requirements.

Important notice: The New York State Education Department and the State University of New York periodically revise graduation and/or certification requirements for teachers. When changes occur, students are bound by the new requirements instead of those listed in this catalog.

* All students will be required to pay a mandatory data collection fee of $133.00 upon your entry into the School of Education.

Evening Students

Every effort is made to offer some required courses in the evening. While students can expect to complete some of their required Education courses in the evening, it is important for all students to realize that some courses and all field experiences can only be offered during the day. Some courses will be taught completely off campus within school districts. Some students may find that they will need more than four years to complete all requirements.

Minimal Grade Requirements:

Grades of C or lower are not accepted for any courses.

Credit/No Credit Option:

The Credit/No Credit option is not permitted for any Liberal Education Curriculum, concentration courses or program requirements.

Program Requirements:

All candidates must maintain a 3.0 in their overall GPA, Major, and Concentration, if applicable. All candidates must complete a series of NYS mandated workshops for NYS certification and SUNY graduation. All candidates must complete an exit survey. Student teaching may not be repeated.

Criminal Background Check

State University of New York (SUNY) policy prohibits SUNY Old Westbury from inquiring into an applicant's prior criminal history on their admissions applications. After acceptance, the College shall inquire if the student previously has been convicted of a felony if such individual seeks campus housing or participation in clinical or field experiences, internships or study abroad programs. The information required to be disclosed under SUNY policy regarding such felony convictions shall be reviewed by a standing campus committee.

Advisement

• A full-time Director of Academic Services and Outreach acts as advisor to all new and transfer students. Appointments may be made by contacting the School of Education secretary in Room 1046 or by calling (516) 876-3275 or 876-3982.
• Education majors are assigned a faculty advisor after acceptance to the School of Education.
• Students must meet with their assigned advisor each semester.
• Adolescence Education majors obtain advisement from their disciplinary coordinators.
• Majors in Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics and Social Studies also obtain formal advising within their respective content area department.
New York State Teacher Certification Examinations

Graduates requesting initial teacher certifications must pass the New York State Teacher Certification Examinations (NYSTCE). These are the Educating All Students Test (EAS), a test of the professional and pedagogical knowledge and skills necessary to teach all students effectively in New York State public schools; the Multi-Subject Content Specialty Test (CST), a test of the content knowledge and skills necessary to teach effectively in New York State public schools, and the Teacher performance Assessment (edTPA). Special and Bilingual Education majors must also pass a CST in the area of specialization.

The most recent summary of NYSTCE results for all teacher education institutions in New York State - including SUNY Old Westbury - is available at the New York State Teacher Certification Examination (NYSTCE) website.

Liberal Education Curriculum Requirements

All students must fulfill the College’s Liberal Education Curriculum requirements as stated in the Liberal Education Curriculum Bulletin. In addition, all Childhood and Exceptional Education majors must complete:

- An upper division literature course in English to satisfy the “Humanities” requirement
- Two natural science courses with lab
- Two mathematics courses, one of which must satisfy the College’s mathematics proficiency requirement
- Two semesters of the same foreign language (American Sign Language is acceptable)
- Childhood Education, MA1020 and MA2010 are required

Disciplinary Concentrations

All Childhood and Exceptional Education majors must complete a minimum of 8 courses in a disciplinary concentration in the liberal arts and sciences and must maintain a 3.0 GPA.

ADOLESCENCE EDUCATION

COMBINED BACHELOR’S-MASTER OF ARTS IN TEACHING DEGREE PROGRAMS

The School of Education is currently developing combined degree programs in five areas: Chemistry, English, Mathematics, Social Studies (offered 2017 Social Studies only) and Spanish. The programs are designed so that students who follow the courses of study can finish their respective bachelor’s degrees in 3.5 years and their respective master’s degree in 1.5 additional years. Students accepted to the combined-degree program will have the benefit of taking specified graduate course during the last semester of their bachelor’s program and pay for the graduate courses at the undergraduate tuition rate. Theses graduate courses will count toward both degrees. For more information refer to the School of Education section in the graduate catalog. These programs are scheduled to be offered as of Spring 2019.

* B or better required
The School of Professional Studies offers a variety of programs oriented toward developing skills and knowledge needed for specific occupational areas. The School offers high quality, flexible courses of study attuned to the needs of the current workplace that prepare students to compete successfully in the global marketplace. Its programs include two baccalaureate degrees, a Bachelor of Professional Studies in Professional Studies and a Bachelor of Science in General Studies, a Minor in Entertainment and Sports Management, a minor in Congregational Leadership that it offers in collaboration with the History and Philosophy Department, and a minor in Equine Management and Therapeutic Horsemanship that it offers in collaboration with the Psychology Department.

Mission
The mission of SUNY Old Westbury’s School of Professional Studies is to support the College’s core academic programs by offering quality, affordable career-oriented training and skills enhancement consistent with the College’s mission.

Admissions and Enrollment
Non-matriculated students can enroll in courses offered by the School of Professional Studies up to Old Westbury’s limit of 32 credits.

Matriculated students can enroll in credit courses offered by the School of Professional Studies as part of their regular course load through the normal registration process.

Matriculated students gain admission to the School of Professional Studies when they declare as their major one of its degree programs. Students intending to major in one of the School’s degree programs should apply to the College through its normal enrollment process.

Transfer Students
Students can apply up to 80 credits earned at other accredited institutions of higher learning toward their Old Westbury degree. Transfer credits will be applied to degrees offered by the School of Professional Studies based on their appropriateness as determined by the Director, the policies of the College specified in the “Transfer Credit” section of the College catalog, and existing equivalencies and articulation agreements.

Credit for Prior Learning
Old Westbury offers a number of ways for incoming students’ to get credit for their prior learning: credit by Examination, credit for Military Training, and credit awarded for experiential learning (the College’s Accreditation Program for Experiential Learning, or APEL). The School for Professional Studies will advise students on how they can take advantage of these opportunities to gain credit for their prior learning and advance as quickly as possible to their degree. Information about the various programs is given under “Academic Policies and Procedures.” (Note that Credit for Prior Learning is included in the 80 credit limit mentioned in the “Transfer Students” section above; students must take at least 40 of the 120 credits required for their bachelor’s degree at Old Westbury.)

Evening and Weekend Students
Courses offered by the School for Professional Studies are offered on weekends, in the evening, and online. Courses offered by other schools in the College utilized by programs in the School for Professional Studies may not be available at these times, but Liberal Education Curriculum can be completed through classes offered online and in the evening. Most majors offer some courses online and at night, but selection is limited. Students therefore should plan individualized courses of study and electives carefully. Advising is available from the School of Professional Studies, and appropriate course substitutions can be made with the approval of the Director.
Degree Programs
The School of Professional Studies offers two degree programs:
- Bachelor of Professional Studies (B.P.S.) in Professional Studies
- Bachelor of Science (B.S.) in General Studies

Both of these programs are characterized by the flexibility of their major components.
- The Major in the B.S. in General Studies is created individually by a student in consultation with an advisor
- The Major in the B.P.S. in Professional Studies includes a core of courses that equip students to function effectively as professionals in a variety of fields, and an elective component

Minors
Part of the flexibility of the School for Professional Studies’ programs comes from the fact that students are encouraged to pursue Minors as well as their Major in order to gain focused skills and readily-identifiable credentials in specific vocationally oriented areas. The School of Professional Studies currently offers a Minor in Entertainment and Sports Management, a minor in Congregational Leadership, and a minor in Equine Management and Therapeutic Horsemanship. Students can also take minors offered by Old Westbury’s other departments.

The B.P.S. in Professional Studies
Note that the BPS in Professional Studies is separate from the School of Business. Its courses do not count toward School of Business requirements. The BPS includes 4 required courses (16 credits) that relate to traditional business subjects (Accounting for Professionals, Professional Supervision, Marketing for Professionals, and Financial Systems), and students in the program can take no more than 8 additional credits, as electives, that are considered traditional business subjects.

Professionals and professionalism have come to be the hallmarks of the modern middle class. The BPS in Professional Studies prepares students to operate in this milieu through a set of skills-based classes that cultivate the knowledge and abilities needed to succeed in the white-collar world.

The BPS in Professional Studies requires a total of 120 credits, at least 30 of which must be in the Liberal Arts, 40 taken at Old Westbury, and 45 at the upper-division level. These are divided into three sets of courses.

A. Liberal Education Curriculum
Refer to the Liberal Education Curriculum Bulletin for specific requirements.

B. Major Requirements (40 credits)
1. The Major Core: 36 credits
   - PS2330 Fundamentals of Economics
   - PS3130 Accounting for Professionals
   - PS3230 Professional Communications
   - PS3260 Information Technology for Professionals
   - PS3330 Professional Supervision
   - PS3430 Marketing for Professionals
   - PS4225 The Law for Professionals
   - PS4325 The Financial System

2. Elective Course: 4 credits
   Students will take one additional upper division course consistent with their interests and career plans as part of the major. The course may be within or outside the BPS in Professional Studies program, but if outside it must be approved by the student’s advisor.

Elective courses within the BPS in Business and Management program include:
- PS3625 Nonprofit Stewardship and Development
- PS3675 Introduction to Social Entrepreneurship
- PS4420 Entertainment and Sports Management
- PS4430 Entertainment and Sports Marketing
- PS4440 Entertainment and Sports Media
- PS4630 Financial Administration of Nonprofits
- PS4660 Business Leadership and Ethics
- PS5425 Entertainment and Sports Law
- PS5435 Entertainment and Sports Finance

C. College Electives
Students will take additional courses to bring their total credits to 120.

D. Grades of D
A maximum of 2 courses with a grade of D, D+, or D- can be counted toward the major.
The B.S. in General Studies
The Bachelor of Science in General Studies requires a total of 120 credits, at least 60 of which must be in the Liberal Arts, 40 taken at Old Westbury, and 45 at the upper-division level. These are divided into three sets of courses:

A. Liberal Education Curriculum
   Refer to the Liberal Education Curriculum Bulletin for specific requirements.

B. Major Requirements (40 credits)

  1. Students will design an individualized “Major Core” course of study in consultation with an advisor that is consistent with their professional development, career aspirations, and life goals. A curriculum contract will be established which will constitute the curriculum requirements for graduation.
  2. At least 24 of the 40 credits in the Major Core must be at the upper-division level.
  3. The Major Core can be completed in one of two broad categories:
     i) Academic Divisions of Knowledge: Students will take courses in each of the major Academic Divisions of Knowledge: the Natural Sciences, the Social Sciences, and the Humanities.
     ii) Interdisciplinary Themes: Course selection for this category will include courses in a minimum of two disciplines from one or more of the major academic divisions.

C. College Electives
   Students will take additional courses to bring their total credits to 120.

D. Grades of D
   A maximum of 2 courses with a grade of D, D+, or D- can be counted toward the major.

Congregational Leadership Minor
The minor in Congregational Leadership is designed for students holding or aspiring to leadership positions in religious or spiritual organizations. It offers courses on the managerial, financial and governance issues of nonprofit religious organizations as well as courses to broaden the congregational leader’s religious and spiritual perspective. For details, see the “Minors” section of this catalog.

Entertainment and Sports Management Minor
New York is a hub of the entertainment industry and the home of a wide variety of professional, semi-professional, and organized amateur Sports organizations. The School of Professional Studies offers a 5 course, 20 credit minor in Entertainment and Sports Management designed to give students knowledge and skills to help them enter and succeed in the business activities of these enterprises. For details on requirements, see the “Minors” section of this catalog.

Equine Management and Therapeutic Horsemanship Minor
The Equine Management and Therapeutic Horsemanship minor enables students to turn a passion for horses and riding into a professional career while helping others benefit from the relationship between rider and horse. Therapeutic horsemanship is a rapidly growing field that involves the use of horses in the treatment or remediation of physical, cognitive, emotional and psychiatric problems. This minor offers a strong combination of horsemanship and psychological instruction to enable students to pursue opportunities in special education, counseling, or the equine industry. For details, see the “Minors” section of this catalog.
