Self-Nomination due date: August 30, 2019

Final application due date: September 25, 2019

NEH Summer Stipends support individuals pursuing advanced research that is of value to humanities scholars, general audiences, or both. Eligible projects usually result in articles, monographs, books, digital materials and publications, archaeological site reports, translations, or editions. Projects must not result solely in the collection of data; instead, they must also incorporate analysis and interpretation. Summer Stipends support continuous full-time work on a humanities project for a period of two consecutive months. Summer Stipends support projects at any stage of development.

The College may nominate no more than two faculty to participate in the Summer Stipend competition. Toward that end, our College conducts a self-nomination process wherein faculty should submit a description of their proposed work by Friday, August 30. Self-nominations may be as brief as a single page but should be prepared following the narrative format and content prescribed by NEH for final applications.

Please e-mail self-nominations to murphyt@oldwestbury.edu with the subject title “NEH Nomination.”
Copy should be sent concurrently to your Dean.
